

Laos Command Is Reported Fallen to Communists Today

Renewed Communist Drive Held as Threat to All Asia

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The command post of neutralist Gen. Kong Le on the eastern edge of the strategic Plain des Jarres fell to the Communists today, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma reported.

The neutralist prince told newsmen the situation was "still critical" at Muong Phanh, the village 100 miles northeast of Vientiane that Kong Le used as headquarters for his 7,000-man neutralist army.

Souvanna said pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops and North Vietnamese soldiers overran Kong Le's command post after two days of heavy shelling and bitter fighting. No estimate of casualties was available.

Military sources said Kong Le was in the general vicinity of Muong Phanh but had retreated southward to set up a new defense perimeter.

Renewed Drive
The renewed Communist drive has stirred concern in Washington that another Southeast Asian crisis was developing. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Johnson held urgent talks on the situation Sunday.

A radio broadcast from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi, heard in Tokyo, said neutralist troops at Muong Phanh had slain rightist soldiers serving with them.

The broadcast said the rightists were killed "to oppose the U.S. scheme to merge neutralist troops to set up a unified government." It did not elaborate.

Souvanna and right-wing Deputy Premier Phoumi Nosavan have agreed to merge the neutralist and Pathet Lao forces since a rightist army coup in Vientiane on April 17. The Pathet Lao, led by Prince Souphanouvong, rejected an invitation to join in a unified army and government.

Identity Cards
Souvanna showed newsmen photostats which he said were identity cards and other documents taken from the bodies of North Vietnamese soldiers last week.

"I know this is a strong accusation against a signatory of the Geneva accords," he said.

The 1953 Geneva agreements guaranteed Laos' neutrality and set up a coalition government of neutralists, right-wingers and

Johnson Seeks $125 Million for Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today for an extra $125 million to help step up the war against communism in South Viet Nam.

The money will go into increased support of both military and civil operations of the Vietnamese.

In a special message, Johnson spelled out the needs and the intentions. He said that "by our words and deeds to a decade of determined effort, we are pledged before the world to stand with the free people of Viet Nam."

And he said two major changes have dictated the necessity for increasing financial help to Viet Nam:

"First, the Viet Cong guerrillas, under orders from their Communist masters in the North, have intensified terrorist actions against the peaceful people of South Viet Nam. This increased terrorist requires increased response.

"Second, a new government under Prime Minister Khanh has come to power, bringing new energy and leadership and new hope for effective action. I share with Ambassador (Henry Cabot) Lodge the conviction that this new government can mount a successful campaign against the Communists."

Johnson told Congress he wants an extra $70 million for economic help to the Vietnamese and $55 million for military purposes.

13 Persons Die On State Roads Over Weekend

94 More Fatalities Than in Similar Period During 1963

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thirteen persons lost their lives on Wisconsin highways during the weekend ending the state's traffic toll to 344, compared with 289 on this date a year ago.

Dana Hove, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hove of La Crosse, died Sunday of injuries sustained Saturday when struck by a car near her home. Hove is an engineer at WKBT-TV in La Crosse.

John L. Farrow, 27, of Superior was killed Sunday evening when a car left Douglas County trunk E about a mile south of Superior.

William Wentz, 60, of Milwaukee, was killed late Sunday night when he was struck by a car as he crossed a street on the city's South Side.

Gary Wald, 24, of rural Elk Mound was killed Sunday when his car crashed on County Trunk E 10 miles west of Elk Claire.

Burns to Death
Glen Teichuk, 16, of Chicago burned to death Sunday when the car in which he was riding and a milk truck collided on Highway 46 and Kenosha County Trunk C. The driver and two other passengers in the car are hospitalized.

Joseph La Rock, 58, of Keshena died Saturday night when his car and a truck collided on Shawano County Trunk HH near the Shawano County line.

John D. Bottoms, 19, of Harvard, Ill., was killed late Saturday night when a sports car struck a metal post after leaving Prairie View Road two miles west of Walworth.

Other Fatalities
Richard D. McGregor, 38, of Baucraft was killed Saturday when a car driven by his brother, Alfred, 18, crashed at a curve on Adams County Trunk

Bends Blamed for Skin Diver's Death

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A member of the Aqua Rays Skin Diving Club of Chicago died of an apparent attack of the bends Sunday while souvenir hunting at the wreckage of the Sunken Prince Willem V three miles off Milwaukee harbor.

Bengt Agner, about 45, of Evergreen Park, Ill., was found "floating around" by fellow divers near the wreck of the Dutch motor ship, which sank in 40 feet of water after a collision in 1964.

Bengt was taken ashore by the USS Portage, a naval training ship. He was pronounced dead on arrival at County Emergency Hospital.

Court Nullifies Provision in Nationality Act

Says Naturalized Citizen Not Barred For Residing Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a section of the Immigration and Nationality Act that strips naturalized Americans of citizenship if they return to their native land for three years.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 5-3 decision.

Justice Tom C. Clark wrote a dissenting opinion, in which Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White joined. Justice William J. Brennan took no part.

Validity of the section was attacked by Angelika L. Schneider, who was born in Bavaria, Germany, in 1934. In 1950 she came a naturalized American. Four years later she was graduated from Smith College with a bachelor of arts degree.

In 1959 she returned to Germany to marry Dieter Schneider, a lawyer in Cologne. Three years later the American consulate in Düsseldorf asked her to surrender her naturalization certificate. She did so under protest, then had attorneys begin action in federal courts in this city.

Mrs. Schneider contended the law violated the Constitution by imposing cruel and unusual punishment. A special three-judge court here ruled 3-1 that the challenged section represented a constitutional exercise by Congress of its power to regulate foreign affairs. Her appeal to the Supreme Court argued that the section arbitrarily discriminated against naturalized citizens.

Argentina Gets U. S. Military Aid

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Reports circulated today that the United States will pump $15 million military aid into Argentina against the prospect that neighboring Chile will elect a Communist-backed government in September.

An informed U.S. source said the United States is making Argentina the chief beneficiary of military aid in Latin America as the "best bet for strengthening the hemispheric defense system against the threat of communism."

3 Drown in Boat Tragedy

4 Rescued After Craft Capsizes in Racine County

WATERFORD, Wis. (AP)—Three persons, including two children, drowned and four others were rescued Sunday evening when a 12-foot boat overturned in the Fox River about two miles north of this Racine County community.

The bodies of Joseph Kompel, 40, Anthony Velez, 6, and Robert Rohades Jr., 9 months old, all of Chicago, were recovered in about six feet of water.

Kompel's wife, Ruby, 44; Robert Rohades, 21, and his wife, Rosella, 24, parents of the dead children; and Robert L. Cass of Chicago were rescued.

The sheriff's office said that the group had spent the weekend at Kompel's cottage on an island in the river near Buena Park, a subdivision near Waterford.

They were using the small boat, powered by an outboard motor, to get from the island to their car on shore. The craft began to take water at the bow and, authorities said, overturned when one person attempted to move closer to the stern.

Deputies said there were three unused life preservers in plastic bags in the boat.

Canadian Flag Change Given Cheers and Boos

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson encountered boos and heckling as he unfurled his proposal for a new Canadian flag before a Royal Canadian Legion convention Sunday night.

Pearson proposed to replace Canada's Red Ensign, which has the British Union Jack in the upper left-hand corner, with a maple leaf design as part of his program to counter separatist, anti-British sentiment in French-speaking Quebec Province.

A boycott of Milwaukee public schools, sponsored by civil rights leaders as a protest against alleged de facto segregation, began this morning.

Several schools in the central city were picketed. Principals reported attendance light.

Among the schools picketed early in the day were North Division High School and Roosevelt Junior High School.

School authorities reported that 60 per cent of the pupils at Roosevelt were absent, about four times the normal absence for a Monday.

Some 300 Pupils reported at St. Matthew Christian Methodist Episcopal church where the Milwaukee United School Integration Committee, boycott sponsor, has its headquarters. Negro comedian Dick Gregory spoke to the pupils.

Eleven pickets led by the Rev. V. Champion, pastor of Jerusalem Missionary Baptist Church, marched outside the Milwaukee Public Schools Administration Building. They carried signs reading: "Integration is Education" and "We want Education Now."

The School Board invoked an old rule under which news photographers are banned from taking pictures in any room where classes are in session. A spokesman said the purpose was to avoid retaliation against any pupil who ignored the boycott.

The pickets carried bundles of signs in apparent preparation for an increased number of marchers.

Boycott leaders aimed the withdrawal at 23 schools in the city's inner core having Negro enrollment in excess of 50 per cent of the total.

There are more than 20,000 Negro children in the city's public schools.

The boycott committee set up 31 Freedom School sites, in churches, equipped to accommodate about 12,000 pupils.

Three were set up for high school students, three for junior high school students and the remainder for elementary pupils.

Detailed lesson plans, drawn up for the Freedom Schools, included discussions among pupils of why they were attending Freedom Schools instead of their regular classes. Other subjects included freedom, brotherhood, boycott, equality and justice, as well as art, folk singing, dramatic presentations and physical education.

Milwaukee public schools remained open as usual. Teachers had been warned in advance that they would lose a day's

Pope Seeks Closer Ties With Non-Christians

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI is creating a Vatican secretariat to work for closer relations between the Roman Catholic Church and non-Christian religions. It may bring religious leaders of East and West together on a regular basis for the first time in history.

The Roman Catholic ruler announced Sunday that he would create the Vatican agency soon to promote contacts with Buddhists, Hindus, Moslems, Jews and members of other faiths outside Christianity.

Paolo Cardinal Marella, 60, will head the new congregation. He is archbishop of St. Peter's and a former apostolic delegate to Australia and Japan.

Roman Catholic churchmen in different parts of the world have numerous contacts with chergymen from other religions. Representatives of non-Christian faiths are received at the Vatican for the first time in history.

The Vatican already has a secretariat to promote unity with non-Catholic Christians.

Pope Paul did not specify how the secretariat would work or what problems it would take up with non-Christian religions. But

Party Chiefs Appeal for Brewster

BY GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Sen. Daniel B. Brewster has rested his campaign to block Gov. George C. Wallace in Maryland's Democratic presidential primary Tuesday after touring a section of Baltimore with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the late president.

Wallace, governor of Alabama, makes his last personal appearance tonight at a rally in a Baltimore suburb.

A crowd of about 3,000 turned out for the street parades to greet Kennedy and Brewster in South Baltimore, an area of varied ethnic groups, largely Italian and Polish.

Kennedy compared the neighborhood to South Boston, and said: "The Irish and the Poles came to this country looking for a better life, the Democratic party gave it to them."

Assails Wallace
He recalled his brother's visits to Baltimore in the 1950 presidential campaign.

"You in South Baltimore gave him your help and your support," he said. "The man who is running against Danny Brewster is against everything the president lived for and worked for."

Kennedy was received with warmth and friendliness, but sentiment for Wallace was evident.

There were signs: "Stand up for America—vote for Wallace" and "Senator Kennedy—why are you in favor of putting a white man in jail for choosing his customers at the bar-restaurant on the corner?"

Kennedy was the 16th Democrat to turn to Page 7, Col. 2

Lodge Backers In California May Give Support to Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leaders of the Draft Lodge Committee scheduled a news conference today amid speculation that they will support Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California primary.

Paul Grindle, national campaign chairman for the committee to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination, was to make "an important statement" at the news conference.

Grindle declined on Sunday night to disclose the committee's intentions, saying only that the statement concerned the June 2 California primary.

Only the names of Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater will appear on the Republican presidential primary ballot. Write-ins are not allowed in California.

Utah Teachers Press Demand For More Funds

10,000 Members Of UEA Began Walkout Today

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah teachers began a two-day walkout today to press their demands for more money for education of the state's 270,000 pupils.

Gov. George D. Clyde's refusal last week to call a special legislative session to consider more school money triggered the Utah Education Association's call Saturday for a walkout today and Tuesday of its 10,000 members.

Most school boards ordered schools open in the face of the threatened action. But the openings were considered only a formality.

Writs Cover 2 Areas

Two boards obtained court orders forbidding the walkouts in their areas.

The state attorney general's office has ruled that schools may, after a token opening, close their doors if children show up and teachers remain at home.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary, said that most teachers would honor the walkout.

School boards made individual plans how to handle children that came to school. Evans said that "amateurs in charge of overcrowded classrooms will bring chaos" and threaten the safety of children.

Mass Meetings Tuesday

The UEA hoped the 900,000-member National Education Association would grant its call for sanctions and ask that no out-of-state teacher take a job in Utah.

State teachers expected to learn of the NEA's plans after mass meetings Tuesday in Salt Lake City. The teachers will decide then what further action to take, if any.

Proposals include an indefinite extension of the present walkout and a refusal to sign contracts for next year until demands are met.

The teachers so far have refused to sign contracts, although the normal signing time has gone by. They almost refused to teach last year when their request for an added $25 million for schools was cut in half.

The teachers returned to classrooms in the fall when Clyde appointed a study committee as a compromise.

Three Xavier High School Students were presented scholarships Monday as winners in a student council sponsored contest on leadership. Participating are, from left, Jerry Rankin, a winner; Ron Bixby, student council president; Robert DeBruin, contest chairman; Michael Braun and Donald Bleier, the other two scholarship winners. Appleton Teacher Will be Assistant Ripon Professor Wayne C. Mannebach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement P. Mannebach, 1329 W. Eighth St., has been appointed an assistant professor of speech at Ripon College, starting next fall.

Mannebach will receive his doctor of philosophy degree this summer from Ohio University, Athens, Ohio.

Mannebach graduated from Appleton High School in 1963 and received his bachelor of science degree in English and speech from Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh in 1961. He received a National Defense Scholarship to Ohio University in 1961, and received his master of arts degree in rhetoric and public address from there in 1963.

Mrs. Mannebach and the couple's two children will spend this summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andraschko, in Weyauwega. Mannebach expects to arrive in Ripon about Aug. 25.

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

Dear Cy: Through the mail I received a letter from a stranger saying, "How would you like to earn over $1,850 per month abroad with hardly any taxes to pay? If you are interested, I will contact you when visiting your city." In the margin of the letter, I pencilled, "I am your man" and sent it back. Several weeks later, I got a phone call from the letter writer. It ended up with me visiting him in a local hotel room and paying almost $25 to be listed with his foreign employment firm. It has now been four months since I paid the money and I have received no foreign job offers. Is this a bona fide deal? If so, how long must I wait?

HUGH TOLSON

Dear Hugh: The deal is not legit, this was no proper stranger. How long you wait is a matter of tenure on earth. Hotel-room promoters of jobs abroad have been hitting the trail lately. And scoring very well, thanks! Three of these advance fee boys landed last month in prison with sentences of one and one-half to two years. Common sense dictates you never visit the hotel room of a stranger. With a reliable introduction, or sound references, the man is no stranger. Most firms, seeking workers for overseas jobs, probe through employment agencies or do their own recruiting. No advance fees are involved. Surely your mother must have told you: "Never talk to strangers unless you sell them something for cash!"

CY

Dear Mrs. Crankshaw: Your photograph on the folder portrays you as an attractive dignified woman which should inspire confidence. But, yours is no ordinary calling. As your lectures pertain to human spiritual welfare, many are skeptical. Although some areas are more difficult to penetrate than others, I feel your bookings will have to be sold personally. Consider contacting a lecture bureau and selling them on the idea of representing you. Regardless of how you go about a new plan of action, if you have any endorsements of satisfied listeners, use them. After three years of studying science of mind, you should be equipped with the proper mental attitude for selling yourself.

CY

Dear Henry: Sell yourself! Instead of tip-toeing into offices and whispering, "Here I am. Take me or leave me," present yourself as a kitchen knife driven into a wheel of cheese. Here's how: Play detective with prospective companies and sniff out where you would fit into their profitable advantage. Then pinpoint a job, which does or should exist . . . and sell yourself with logic and forceful enthusiasm. You wouldn't peddle fertilizer or garbage cans without sleuthing the product and the market. Then, why treat the world's greatest commodity . . . yourself . . . worse?

CY

To add to your storehouse of profit facts, send for Cy's new booklet, "Writing for Profit . . . Pitfalls, Facts and Sources." It's yours for 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to Cy Barrett, care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Rural Appleton Woman Wins Car On Television Show

Mrs. James F. Smith, route 3, Appleton, had more than a dream come true while vacationing in the East.

She and her husband will return home in a spanking new car won on the TV program "The Price Is Right."

The Smiths were on a belated honeymoon trip after some 13 years of marriage. While at the World's Fair the couple decided it would see the show and sent for tickets. Mrs. Smith bid on a car and comedian Steve Rossi drew her name.

Relatives admit Mrs. Smith was a bit flustered when Rossi hugged and kissed her in glee over her good fortune.

Maryland's Democrats Preparing for Wallace

Estimates of Wallace Vote Tuesday Range Between 25 and 40 Per Cent

BY JULES LOM

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — When the Maryland Democratic presidential primary campaign opened, Sen. Daniel Brewster, D-Md., said his opponent was nothing more than "a dangerous joke."

Whatever Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace may seem to his foes, few of them, including Brewster, actually regard him as a joke.

Indeed as Tuesday, day of reckoning approaches almost a dozen Senate colleagues have come to Maryland to help Brewster and the senator has completely reversed his campaign strategy.

An Agitator Having referred to Wallace initially as "an outside agitator" who traffics in "half-truths and outright lies," Brewster suddenly switched and declared that Wallace, after all, was a visitor in the state and should be treated courteously.

"What has infuriated my opposition in Wisconsin, Indiana and now Maryland," Wallace said in an interview, "is that they have portrayed me as a bigot and racist and some sort of dope, and it has backfired on 'em."

"Fellas just aren't fooled by someone who calls another man a bigot in the name of tolerance. And if I'm a racist, so are the thousands who have voted for me. But you know that's not the case."

That point is one Wallace has been trying to establish for years.

Platform Committee In 1964, when he was a member of the platform committee at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, Wallace said:

"The South must let the world know that racial segregation is the only sane, sensible and non-hypocritical way in which our people can live in harmony together. The propaganda that has been purposely disseminated to the effect that those who believe in segregation are anti-Negro is a downright lie."

The words could have come from any one of his campaign speeches in Maryland, Wisconsin or Indiana. But now he adds a postscript:

"I've discovered in these trips North that there are many millions of segregationists in the United States. Of course they don't call themselves segregationists, but they segregate. The only real difference between them and the people of Alabama is that down there we preach and practice the same thing."

Some close friends of Wallace say he definitely has fleeting visions of the White House. When asked, Wallace doesn't deny it outright. The most he will say is "I have no illusions about the difficulty of a Southern governor being elected president."

Maryland Democratic Chairman Harry Troth Gross predicts Wallace will get about 25 per cent of Tuesday's vote — less than either of the other primaries he has entered. Other observers say it will be closer to 30 per cent.

Rival Teen Groups Of England Brewing Over Styles of Dress

LONDON (AP) — Teen-agers by the hundreds, split into rival groups based on their styles of dress, brawled at resorts on England's southern coast today for the second straight day.

Brighton, the main trouble spot, was a virtual battleground between hordes of youngsters. Fighting raged up and down the beach and ocean boulevards.

Reinforced squads of police, many on horseback, moved in and began trying to nudge the swirling mobs out of the center of the bustling resort town. They did not appear to be having much success.

At Margate, where 80 teenagers were held overnight after disorders Sunday, the magistrate started handing out jail terms ranging from three to six months and fines of from $140 to $210.

Hospital Auxiliary to Sponsor Fine Movie

'A Child is Waiting' Coming to Kaukauna's Vaudeville Theater; Benefit Playing 3 Nights

Several months ago a preview was held in the Fox Cities on a remarkable movie called "A Child is Waiting." The reporter attending this screening then said that this is one film which ought to be "must" viewing on every adult's movie list.

This was back when several organizations were thinking of bringing the movie to the area, but the idea fell through and the Post-Crescent reporter's movie review was relegated to a file "just in case."

Now it can be used because this movie is coming to the Vaudeville Theater in Kaukauna as a benefit for Kaukauna Community Hospital. The sponsors are members of the hospital auxiliary. The movie opens Tuesday night and plays for three nights at 7 and 9 p.m. performances.

As the reviewer said, there's a chance this might be a box office dud, but it shouldn't be even if it does deal with things people like to pretend aren't there.

These "things" are children—retarded children. Any parent will find his time well-spent going to the movie, especially those who haven't become familiar with the problem firsthand.

"A Child is Waiting" is fiction—kept close to fact—a story of how a forward-looking state institution tries to prepare these handicapped children for life.

Movie Stars

Burt Lancaster is the psychologist in the headmaster of the school. Judy Garland is a sincere but misguided do-gooder who finds that filling the void in her life is not necessarily the answer for those whose whole lives look hopeless to those of us who don't understand.

Gene Rowlands and Steve Hahn are the parents who react so much like so many real-life parents react when they find their child isn't "right."

Brace Ritchey is "the child." The real stars of the picture are real-life retarded children from a state school in California. There is no acting here.

Viewers' Transition: You feel uncomfortable watching these kids. You feel a little ashamed that you can't shake that knowledge that they are "different." But the picture is developed with such skill and taste that a peculiar thing happens.

You, with such grand ideas about the future of your own children, suddenly find yourself pulling for these youngsters because you know in your heart they may some day be able to tie shoelaces or wash dishes. And you realize that that is a big thing.

More, you come to realize that these are lovable youngsters with personalities all their own. You feel proud when they come through in the school play just as your own youngsters do. They're people now, not a problem you wish wasn't there.

State Approves Conduct Code For Employees

MADISON (AP)—A code of conduct designed to eliminate conflict of interests activities by Wisconsin's 17,500 civil service employees has been approved by the State Personnel Board. It could become effective by July 1.

The code was ordered drafted last November after Gov. John W. Reynolds ousted Roman Winkowski of Milwaukee as head of the State Savings and Loan Department. The governor said Winkowski's dealings in stock of the Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corp. of Milwaukee constituted a conflict of interest.

The code approved by the board is a revision of a set of rules drafted at Reynolds' request. After a final version is prepared, the code will be re-examined by the board before it is ordered into use.

Under the code, a civil service worker is prohibited from owning property whose value could clearly be affected by decisions of the agency for which he works. It also bars employees from borrowing money or accepting gifts from an individual or institution affected by the activities of the employee's agency.

The revision changed a provision that would have allowed the Personnel Board to institute disciplinary action for violations.

John Shieles, the board chairman, said the section was eliminated so the agency would not become prosecutor, judge and jury in the case of violations. Enforcement of the code was assigned generally to department heads.

Art Team to Give Center Program On Scandinavia

"Report from Scandinavia—Design in a Democracy" is the title of the two-hour program being given by husband and wife art team, James and Mathilda Schwalbach at the UW Fox Valley Center Wednesday night.

However, the program promises to be even more varied than its title sounds. The Schwalbachs, both from the university in Madison, spent 14 months traveling and studying in the Scandinavian countries. They particularly studied the home craft industries there.

As a result, besides commentary by both the Schwalbachs, the program will include exhibits of Scandinavian craft objects, travel slides showing the scenic beauty of the countries, on-the-spot illustrations and tape recordings of such things as a Lap reindeer roundup, a performance of the famous Tyroler Panomime Theater in Copenhagen, the Syttende Mai or Independence Day observance in Norway.

The program will include a musical background on tapes and recordings. Mr. Schwalbach is head of the University of Wisconsin extension art education department and Mrs. Schwalbach is an associate professor in related art in the school of home economics.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11)—David McCallum, a tough and somewhat dimwitted Welsh miner, is projected a million years into the future by a geneticist (Edward Mulhare), who has found a way to speed up evolution on this The Outer Limits repeat.

6:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5)—Bette Davis is that mystery woman on the other end of the line in "Phone Call From a Stranger," which is being revived on Monday Night at the Movies. A good 1930s melodrama.

7:30-8 (Channel 2)—When Lucille Ball discovers hidden talents for quacking like a duck, The Lucy Show really gets going.

8:30-9 (Channel 11)—Wagon Train handles a delicate subject with taste and a portion of soapuds in this repeat. Michael Parks is hired to drive a wagon for perky Joyce Bulfinch and her grandmother. Parks is a priest, beset with doubts and ridden with alcohol.

8-9:30 (Channel 2)—Danny's problem (and a very big one) is how to make the British laugh in this repeat on The Danny Thomas Show.

8:30-9 (Channel 2)—There is an extra dividend on The Andy Griffith Show tonight. The episode, concerning Jim Nabors' first days in the Marine Corps, was the pilot film for the new Corner Pyle series next fall.

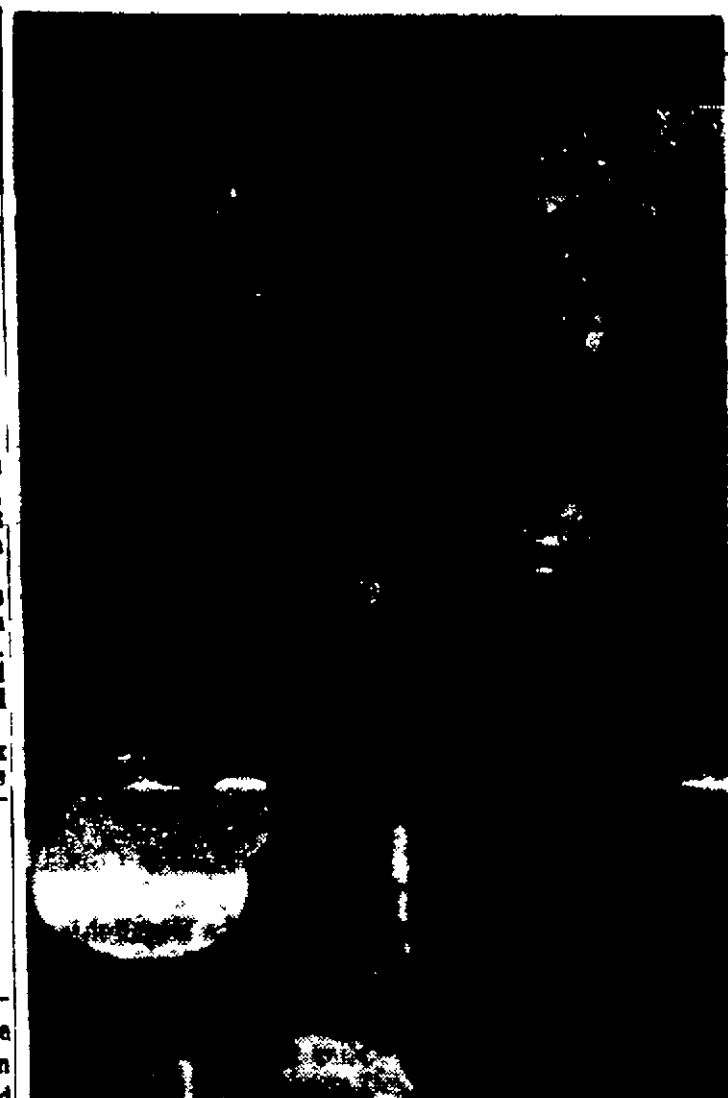

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5)—Hollywood and the Stars continues its lessons on what makes glamorous girls tick.

9-10 (Channel 2)—East Side West Side forgets its deadly seriousness for a pleasant, light hearted outing, which was first shown last fall. Liana van der Vlis is a delight as a high-flying society girl sentenced to 30 days.

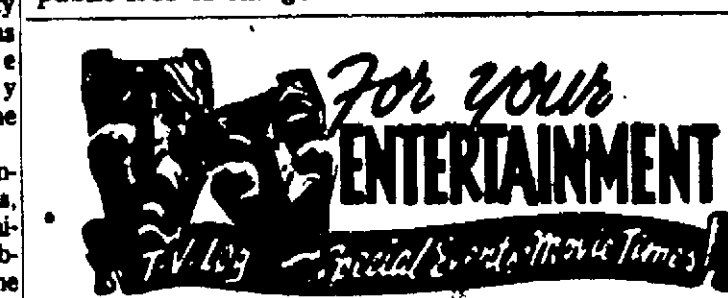

9-10 (Channel 3)—The new district includes parts of Racine, Waukesha and Milwaukee counties.

Oscar, Emmy Get Together This Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Oscar and Emmy are finally going to get together.

The meeting will take place on the annual Television Academy Awards telecast May 25, and it will be strictly for laughs. The opening sketch will show an actor's mantle, on which are displayed an Oscar and an Emmy Dissolve. The pair become Dick Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore who then engage in a wry discussion about their mutual problems.

Permission to portray Oscar took some doing. Consent finally came from the Motion Picture Academy people, who apparently realized the skit might help displace some of Oscar's over-seriousness.

The Oscars have become institutionalized and stuffy. They are handed out in a cold auditorium and the only real liveliness comes at the Oscar ball, which isn't televised.

The Emmy affair has always seemed like a warm family party—sometimes chaotic, as such parties can be. The guests usually gather around dinner tables in a festive atmosphere, as members of the Motion Picture Academy did in its early days.

The atmosphere may be a bit strained this year, in view of this week's blasts against the academy by CBS News and ABC. But most of the stars and other creators are independent contractors who are not necessarily affected by the network's views.

Physical Therapy Offers Career Opportunities

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. (ed) college training is necessary. Some universities give a four-year course, graduates receiving a Bachelor of Science in Physical Therapy or some similar degree. This varies.

Dear Dr. Molner: Although I couldn't attend college to obtain a degree in physical therapy, is there anything I can do as a volunteer or as a salaried worker?

MRS. D.E.N. In general, yes!

As a volunteer, contact any rehabilitation institute or center—or for that matter, most large hospitals. I talked to the physical therapy director of a rehabilitation center in one city and he said:

"Every major hospital in this area has its own physical therapy department."

There are many places where the volunteer will be welcomed with open arms, and generally with considerable leeway afforded to fit such time as you are able to give.

Alas! Feasibilities: There is the possibility of becoming an aide in a physical therapy department, as a salaried undertaking, without formal training—Although some specialized "on-the-job" training is needed, of course.

For trained therapists, my informant interjected, "We could use 10 more in our institute alone, if we could find them."

For all kinds of information on physical therapy, write to the American Physical Therapy Association, 1780 Broadway, New York 19, N.Y.

For those who are interested in making a career of physical therapy (and it is clear that the field is anything but overcrowded).

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of Appleton Post-Crescent requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Wisconsin Secretaries in Convention

Secretaries from throughout Fox Cities are permitted to value of the contact with high school girls through Foxway Hotel Friday evening for where they will, but millet seeds are sown and cultivated for the beginning of the State Division of the National Secretaries Association (International) 11th annual meeting "Take Knowledge by the Tale" was the theme of the three day event, at which the Fox Cities Chapter was hostess.

Guest of honor was Miss M. Merle Law, CPS, of London, Ontario, Canada, Great Lakes District vice president of the Association, who spoke at the Saturday morning business session. Her topic was "Consider the Fox Tail".

Miss Law compared fox tail grass with millet, both containing seeds in their spiked heads.

The Wisconsin Division Convention of National Secretaries Association (International) began with an informal program and registration Friday evening at the Conway Hotel. Art and pottery corners were set up and a hootenanny provided entertainment. Above, as the three-day meeting began, are Mrs. Ronald Wenninger, Mrs. Jeanne Howell, Miss Laverne Van Dyke, Miss Dorothy Rappel and Mrs. Melda Anderson, all of the hostess Fox Cities Chapter. Below, as the sessions opened Saturday morning, are Mrs. Leone Haase, general convention chairman, Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Miss Loraine Baum, Milwaukee, Division president, and Miss Merle Law, London, Ontario, Canada, vice president of the Great Lakes District and morning speaker.

tended by a delegation from Illinois, opened informally Friday evening with registration and an Open House at the hotel. A hootenanny, pottery display and art corner were set up for the visiting secretaries and chapter delegates. A film, "Springtime in Paris" was shown as part of the Secretaries' European tour plans. Chapter-at-large members met with Division officers at 10 p.m.

Delegates met in official session at 8 a.m. Saturday, with buzz sessions scheduled on program, workshop and treasurers from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m.

General chairman Mrs. Leone Haase called the convention to order at 10 a.m. A welcome to guests was extended by Miss Loraine Rentner, president of the Fox Cities Chapter. Miss Loraine H. Baum, CPS, Milwaukee, Wisconsin Division president, introduced the Division board before Miss Law's address.

SOTY Contest

The Secretary of the Year contest got underway at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in the Michigan Room. Judging candidates presented by each chapter were Joseph Gunderson, Coordinator of the School of Business at the Appleton Vocational and Adult School; Mrs. Norma Brazeau, Personnel Supervisor for Women at Kimberly - Clark Corp. Neenah, and J. T. Thomas, vice president of Marketing at Tillamook Pulp and Paper Co., Kaukauna.

Miss Dorothy Belton, CPS, 1963 SOTY, presented the '64 award at the Secretary-of-the-Year luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

The business session recessed at 2:15 p.m. with committee reports given.

Shopper Reigns

"The Solid Gold Shopping Cart" was the topic of Owen Lyons, advertising and Sales Promotion Manager of Marathon Division of American Can Co., who spoke at the evening banquet.

Mr. Lyons noted that the woman shopper today thinks, acts and buys differently than she used to. She is more mobile, more involved with her community, and more concerned about home and family. She demands convenience in preparation and serving of foods and in house-keeping chores, and is willing to pay more for built-in conveniences that provide time and work savers.

The speaker said that the coming of the big store and its features of self-service has created a situation in which the shopper does her own choosing. This involves a new and changing problem for those who package and distribute food products. The shopper and her cart, matching wits with the big food producers and their arts of bewitching and dazzling, is always the winner, said, for she is her own Bureau of Standards, keeping the

One of the Highlights of the Division Convention was the crowning of a Secretary of the Year, to represent the state at the national convention. Chosen this year was Miss Betty Marx, Milwaukee. Judging is based on education, poise, appearance, and the answers to specific questions. At the crowning, seated, are Miss Florence Brewster, Kaukauna, the Fox Cities SOTY, and Mrs. Roger Lyons, chairman of the SOTY committee. Standing are Mrs. John Lary, Madison, 1960 SOTY; Miss Marx, '64 SOTY, and Miss Dorothy Belton, Milwaukee, '63 SOTY.

The recognition of 1963 CPSs and presentation of International Membership Award were carried out by Miss Baum, who, assisted by Miss Anita R. Lary, CPS, Madison, Division vice president, initiated Chapter-at-Large members Miss Betty Lou Dean and Miss Marlene Voeltner, both of Stevens Point. The Division membership award was given by Miss Stella M. Kaiser, Racine, Chapter Procurement and Membership chairman.

Division officers for 1964 - 65 were installed by Miss Ruth Galliot, CPS, past International president.

Buzz sessions on parliamentary procedure and education were held from 9 to 10 a.m. Sunday before the 10:15 a.m. brunch.

"Vive la Difference" was the theme of the morning program, with Frank Spangler, Administrator of Civic Affairs at A. O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee, and Mrs. Roger Lyons, Secretary-of-the-Year contest and luncheon.

Miss Dorothy Belton, CPS; Miss Dorothea Carotta, CPS; Miss Diana D. Edholm, Miss Mavis N. Elliott, CPS, Miss Joan Heitz, Miss Margaret Kimball, CPS, and Miss Virginia Wilke, CPS, participating.

Final reports of the credentials, registration and resolutions committees were given at the closing business session Sunday morning.

Fox Cities Chapter members who helped plan the Division meeting were Mrs. Emily Behl, banquet chairman; Mrs. Lester Small, brunch; Miss Florence Brewster, Kaukauna, prizes; Mrs. Lester Romberg, Winneconne, favors - loot bags; Mrs. William Gloudermans, Little Chute, finance; Miss Laverne VanDyke, Kaukauna, hostess; Mrs. Jeanne Howell, Open House; Miss Pat Van Hulle, Neenah, printing; Mrs. James Kranzsch, publicity; Miss Bonnie Kuhr, recording; Mrs. Ronald Wenninger, registrations, and Mrs. Roger Lyons, Secretary-of-the-Year contest and luncheon.

Owen Lyons spoke on "The Solid Gold Shopping Cart" at the Saturday evening banquet in the Conway Hotel's Four Seasons Room. He is shown above with Miss Ruth Galliot, Chicago, past International president, and Mrs. Emily Behl, Appleton, banquet chairman. Installed in office after the dinner meeting were Miss Lorraine Baum, CPS, Milwaukee, president; Mrs. John Lary, CPS Madison, vice president; Miss Patricia Boyle, Racine, secretary, and Miss Mary Svec, LaCrosse, treasurer.

The Conclave Closed with a Sunday morning brunch and buzz sessions. Above are Miss Alice Dobberpuhl, Neenah; Mrs. Thomas E. Davis, Appleton; Mrs. John Kaiser, Racine; Mrs. Lester Small, Appleton; and Mrs. James Kranzsch, Appleton. The Fox Cities Chapter was presented both International and Division Membership Awards during the convention. The '65 meeting will be held in LaCrosse. Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

CELEBRATING ANNIVERSARY

Dear Louise: Please outline in your column the correct, simplest and most inexpensive way to celebrate a 50th wedding anniversary either at home or in a recreation hall of a church.

Louise Davis Answers:

An afternoon Open House. Miss Davis would probably be the least expensive because it would require less in the way of refreshments. You could serve punch or coffee or tea or all three. With the beverage, the minimum would be cookies or cake. If you wish to plan more, you could eliminate the cookies and have canapés or dainty finger sandwiches. No doubt you would want an attractive frosted anniversary cake.

If the celebration is given by the anniversary couple, I suggest cards for invitations. Instead of the traditional engraving, it would be all right to have them printed which would be less expensive. The lettering may be in black or gold. In the upper left corner would be your wedding year, 1914, and in the opposite corner would be 1964. Suggestion for the wording (first line) Mr. and Mrs. James William Smith, (second line) Open House, (third line) Saturday afternoon, the twenty-fifth of May, (fourth line) from four until six o'clock, (fifth line) place, (sixth line) to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Under normal conditions, one would expect about 50 per cent of the number of people invited, so a request for replies shouldn't be needed for this type of refreshments.

Brown Chicken

If you are browning chicken "au sa" in hot fat in a skillet, be sure to dry the chicken pieces thoroughly before they go into the pan. If you don't, the moisture will interfere with the browning process.

Questions On Sewing

Q. I have some beautiful linen and would like to make something. I've made a handkerchief before. How is the lace applied?

MRS. L. T.

A. First finish the four corners of the handkerchief. Then apply the lace edging with the whipping stitch. To do this, place the lace with heading edge even with edge of handkerchief. Working with the needle pointing toward your left shoulder, place needle from back of handkerchief and bring it through to front when you take each stitch. Stitches should be about 1-16 inch apart and firm but not tight enough to pucker the fabric. The whipping stitch is as follows:

Q. I have read something about fabric prints that "repeat". What does that mean?

MRS. E. T.

A. It means that the pattern repeats itself along the length of the fabric again and again without change.

Q. I have some cotton jersey in the form of a tube. How can I prepare it so that I can cut pattern pieces on a single thickness?

MRS. A. H.

A. You'll have to cut the tube open by cutting along a single lengthwise rib.

Q. I love silk shantung but I find that the fabric pulls apart at the seams. What is the reason for this and can it be avoided?

MRS. L. M.

The reason for the seams slipping is an inherent characteristic of the fabric. However, you can avoid this by underlining garments and making a style that has enough ease at all points of stress.

Q. I want to make a dress of silk linen. Do you recommend any particular thread?

MISS A. B.

A. Use mercerized cotton in size 50 or silk thread.

Patricia Scott's new booklet, "How to Handle Special Fabrics," will save you time and trouble. It also includes a needle and thread chart. For your copy of this authoritative booklet, write to Patricia Scott in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

usually the same as the over-casting stitch but it is shorter. Be sure to catch the edges of the handkerchief and lace just barely at the edges. (See illustration.)

Q. I'm a beginner and want to know what is the grain of the fabric. Can you explain?

A. The grain refers to the crosswise and lengthwise

You win the first trick with the king of spades and count eight tricks in top cards. Should you try for the ninth trick in hearts or diamonds?

One play is to give up an early diamond trick and then take dummy's top diamonds. Dummy's last diamond will be good if each opponent started with three diamonds.

The other play is to lead a heart from your hand. If West has the ace of hearts you can win a trick with dummy's king.

As soon as the opponents take one trick, they will force out your last spade stopper. If you then give them another trick, they will defeat the contract with the rest of the spades.

Simple Probability

As Kaplan points out, the odds are against an even break in diamonds, but they are even that West has the ace of hearts. Therefore it is better to lead a heart than to try for a diamond trick.

Still, what's the hurry? Take your four club tricks first. An opponent may run into real or imaginary trouble if forced to discard.

In this case West must find

Nosey Neighbor's Needlepoint Places Eye Strain at Home

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A very good-looking woman in our congregation lost her husband several weeks ago. He was a prominent and well-to-do man in the community so naturally the woman had a great many callers.

The number of callers has dwindled but the minister has made three visits since the funeral. As I write this letter to you I can see his car parked in front of her house. So far as I can tell there is nobody else over there.

I am not suggesting that anything is wrong, you understand, but a minister should be very careful not to hurt his reputation. I do feel it would quiet the gossip if he took his wife along on these calls. Do you agree?—Meaning Well

Dear Meaning: I'm all for quieting the gossip and I suggest that you start with yourself.

It is the minister's responsibility to comfort the members of his congregation in time of grief. Why don't you use your needlepoint covers for your dining room chairs?

Bride-Elect Guest of Honor At Shower

HORTONVILLE — Miss Donna Kaufman was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower at her home. Hostesses were Misses Patricia and Carol Kaufman, the bride-elect's sisters, and Miss Joan Desmond and Mrs. Herman Schwab.

Miss Kaufman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Kaufman, will become the bride of Gordon Spaulding May 23 at Zion United Church of Christ. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Spaulding.

Dear Peaches: I've been reading your column since I was 13—that was six years ago. You must live in a candy cane house with a marshmallow roof.

I'm a sophomore at a state university. I'm 6'3" and I weigh 225 pounds. I play football and maintain a B average. You are obviously unaware that the social patterns have changed since you went to college. I'd like to tell you how it is now, Granny.

Almost everyone I know thinks pre-marital sex is all right so long as the partners like each other. No male expects the girl he marries to be a virgin anymore. In fact, we believe if people would do their running around before marriage, they'd be better husbands and wives.

Please don't bother about sending me one of your naughty-naughty, spank-spank replies, but if you want to use my letter go ahead.—W.F.M.

Dear W.F.M.: Pre-marital sex is all right so long as the partners like each other, is it? I've heard that startling bit of philosophy before, Bub, and always from the fellows. When it comes time to marry, however, these same fellows set their sights considerably higher. That likable girl is all right for fun and frolic, but for marriage and motherhood, she just won't do.

I'll bet when you put on the big sales pitch you say "love" not "like" and the less-than-smart girl believes you—because she wants to. This is a sorry way to use a girl, and if you could read my mail for a week you'd know there's nothing marshmallow about my reef.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I feel terribly sorry for "Freckle Face." She said she had a million freckles and hated every one of them. When I was 18 I had two million freckles and felt the same way.

A friend of the family suggested to my mother that she take me to a plastic surgeon and she did. It changed my life. He performed a minor operation which he called "sandpaper" surgery. It is not painful, but it does put a person out of commission for a couple of weeks, while the face heals. As you can guess, the top layers of skin are sanded off and the skin underneath is clear and smooth.

Will you please pass the word? Peaches and Cream

Dear Peaches: I have passed the word before but I'll do it again.

The procedure is also called abrasive planing and is used to remove birthmarks, acne pits, scars and other skin blemishes.

A word or warning, however, to anyone who may be considering this: Surgical procedures should be performed by a skin specialist and nobody else. Beware of Quacks. (Copyright, 1964)

Republican Delegate Convention Chairmanship to Go to Schadeberg

BY JOHN WYNIAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg of the Wisconsin first congressional district will be elected permanent chairman of the Republican state delegate convention at Milwaukee next weekend.

He was unanimously chosen as the recommended candidate by the Republican state executive committee.

The convention chairmanship position is usually coveted by candidates in an election year for its publicity exposure. Schadeberg expects a hard campaign for re-election in his district, partly as a result of the recent congressional reapportionment law which removed solidly Republican Green County from his constituency.

Mrs. Grace Smith of Jefferson will be chairman of the GOP convention resolutions committee, and will be the first woman to attain that rank in a convention program in the history of the Wisconsin Republican organization officials.

The state Supreme Court handled the mechanics of releasing its historic reapportionment decision last week with characteristic meticulous regard for the financial accounting involved.

Statehouse reporters regularly accredited signed for their copies of the document, and were given one each, without charge.

Everybody else who crowded about wanting copies paid: at the rate of two dollars each, to cover the costs of publishing and binding.

The electronic data processing era is about to make itself felt in Democratic state headquarters.

A precinct by precinct voting history is being prepared by clerks there under the direction of chairman Louis Hansen, and will be recorded on business machine cards for mechanical computations of any kind that will be needed.

Three-Year Increase

Valley Social Security Checks Up $6 Million

Money pouring into Outagamie, Calumet, Waupaca and Winnebago counties in the form of Social Security checks has increased about $6 million during the past three years, according to an annual government report just released.

Total payments to residents in the four-county area has risen from $19,172,000 in 1960 to $25,001,000 in 1963.

Beneficiaries have increased in number and the size of individual checks also is larger. Congress is reported ready to vote another hike in benefits $765 three years ago, a rise of 6.7 per cent, for a county total of $8,158,000 as opposed to $6,125,000 in 1960.

Majority Retired
More than 30,000 residents of the four-county area were receiving Social Security checks at the beginning of 1964, compared to 25,037 in 1960. Majority of the recipients are retired workers, others are disabled workers and wives, children of former workers.

by the party, its constitution, or its managers.

But last week Hansen was re-elected about the delay in completing the file card work, as he was besieged by requests for an analysis of the party effects of the reshaping of legislative districts in the supreme court decree. The data will be in final shape in about two weeks, he reports.

Several months ago forces representing Gov. Reynolds and Sen. Nelson clashed at a state Democratic committee meeting on the election of a party treasurer to succeed John Werner, who had resigned.

Robert Blümler, of Green Bay, the governor's former law partner, was chosen over Sherman Stock, one of Sen. Nelson's home representatives.

Now Democrats are wondering whether there will be a resumption of the fight on the floor of the state party's convention in June, when a treasurer will be chosen for a full two year term.

The Republican state convention at Milwaukee next weekend will be one of the few in the history of the party's voluntary campaign machine since its establishment in the 1920's that has not presented contests for convention endorsement for various state-wide offices.

As far as is now known, five of the six state-wide candidates will be literally unopposed.

Wilbur Renk, odds-on favorite for the endorsement for the nomination for U.S. senator, has a nominal opponent in Willis Donley, a lawyer at Menomonie, Dunn County. But Donley has done little campaign work and is not regarded seriously as a contender. Thus it appears likely that all of the bidders for state ticket places will be endorsed by acclamation, without the formality of roll calls.

A little noticed bill by Assemblyman Thomas Barland of Eau Claire during the recent recessed session of the legislature probably provides a hint of Republican plans to reorganize an important part of the state legislature if they win complete control of the state in the fall election.

The Barland bill proposes to abolish the three member state board of tax appeals as it has existed in recent years, and to replace it with a single official who would be an appeal judge with the same salary and rank as a judge in a state circuit court.

Several state administrations have toyed with the idea of reorganizing the tax appeals machinery, without devising a formula that was satisfactory.

Republican leaders expect a

Senior Students

Taking Part in Summer Survey

COLUMBIA — Senior students from high schools throughout the Fox River Valley area are taking part in a two-day survey which made to discover what factors in high school count as influences upon later successes in occupational, citizenship and family areas of life, especially as related to the non-college bound student.

Warren Jarvis, Kimberly, is secretary of the committee which originated the study. Robert Ruff, Ripon, is the chairman of the committee.

Area high schools participating in the survey include Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Menasha, Neenah, New London, Oshkosh, Ripon, Rockford, Waubesa and Wisconsin.

There will probably be some demonstrations for other candidates, including Gov. Rockefeller.

But party leaders will try to avoid any form of convention expression for and against candidates. In deference to the uncommitted status of the state's chosen delegation to the San Francisco convention. Probably Goldwater could get a convention resolution backing him if he insisted on it, but it is understood that he won't do so.

Tipsy Driver Pleads Guilty

Appleton Woman Fined $175, Loses Driver's License

Mrs. Rosemary Brogan, 40, 808 S. Walden Ave., was fined $175 and costs and her driver's license was revoked for one year after she pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of alcohol Friday.

She appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Appleton Police arrested Mrs. Brogan May 9 on W. College Avenue. She was taken to the Appleton Police station and was examined by a doctor, but did not take a drunkometer test.

Reynolds Wants To Start Test Of Appointments

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds said today he intends to take steps this week that will touch off another state Supreme Court test of a governor's appointive power.

The Democratic chief executive told a news conference he plans to make several appointments to state jobs normally requiring confirmation of the State Senate, and that to bring the matter before the court he will swear in his candidates.

Earlier this year, the high court ruled that while the Legislature is in session a governor can not install new candidates in jobs where holdovers have not stepped down unless Senate confirms his action. With the Senate dominated by Republicans, confirmations have been few.

The Legislature now has closed shop until Nov. 9, and Reynolds insists the absence constitutes an adjournment rather than a recess.

Recommendation of Council May Affect Dairy Products Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Dairy Association fears a recent dietary recommendation of the food and nutrition board of the National Research Council may adversely affect consumption of milk and dairy products.

The board recommended that Americans reduce their daily caloric intake about 10 per cent. For example, it said a "typical" 25-year-old man weighing 154 pounds should limit his intake to 2,900 calories a day. This compared with the board's previous recommendation of a 3,200-calorie intake.

Corresponding reductions were urged for all age and weight groups of adults.

The nutrition board explained that its change in caloric recommendation reflects the fact that Americans are less active physically and hence need less food energy.

The dairy association emphasizes that milk is one of the best sources of essential food elements, particularly for children and young adults.

Wood Association Picks New London For Annual Meeting

Technical presentations and an open discussion of ideas and problems will form the backbone of a program next week at the seventh annual joint meeting of the Wisconsin-Michigan and Midwest Wood Seasoning Associations at New London.

More than 60 members from Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota are expected to attend, according to Carl W. Danielson of Michigan Tech's Institute of Wood Research, secretary of the Wisconsin-Michigan Association.

The program will begin at 1:30 p.m. Thursday with a talk on "Wood Drying in Sweden" by Richard Elliott, president of Standard Dry Kiln Co., Indianapolis.

At 2:45 p.m. Russell W. Thiede, plant manager, Eggers Plywood Co., Two Rivers, will discuss "Commercial Veneer Drying," and a film on "Mechanism of Moisture Movement in Wood" will be shown at 4:15 p.m.

Friday morning will be devoted to idea exchange sessions, with discussions on selected wood drying subjects. At 11:30 a.m. business meetings will be conducted by the individual associations.

Fond du Lac Girl, 3, Injured When Hit by Automobile at Chilton

CHILTON — A three-year-old Fond du Lac girl was struck by an automobile at 6:30 p.m. Sunday as she darted into a city street.

Taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital was Mary Jo Wustrack, 3, 380 Boyd St., Fond du Lac. She was transferred to a Fond du Lac hospital and the extent of her injuries was not known.

The driver of the car, Kenneth Heimerl, 16, route 1, Malone, told city police the girl ran out in front of his car when he was making a turn into a driveway off of E. Grand Street. He said he was unable to stop in time.

Appleton Man Wins National VFW Post

Joseph J. Lombardo, Brooklyn, N. Y., commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, has announced the appointment of David E. Sears, route 1, Appleton, as national aide-de-camp, VFW.

In making the announcement of the appointment, Lombardo said, "I feel extremely gratified to be able to appoint a man of the caliber of Sears to serve on my staff. He is acutely aware of the problems that face our nation's veterans, their widows and orphans, hence I know that I will be able to rely on his judgment and recommendations. I know also that he will represent his community, state and nation in the highest traditions of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States."

Area Students Win Sorority Offices

OSHKOSH—A number of area students at Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh, have been named as officers or initiates in Gamma Sigma Sigma, national service sorority at the college.

New officers of the group include Karen Umland, Larsen, president; Mary Freiburger, New London, first vice president; Marion Ovesti, Wittenberg, corresponding secretary, and Susan Christensen, Larsen, Associated Women Students representative.

Initiated into the sorority in recent ceremonies were Jane Arps, Menasha, and Susan Christensen, Larsen.

Rezoning of Appleton Site Recommended

Ald. Stillings Calls Move 'Strip Zoning'; Votes in Opposition

Appleton Plan Commission today recommended rezoning property in the 2000 block of N. Richmond Street, in spite of objections and charges of "strip zoning" from Ald. Mrs. Dorothy O. Stillings (7th).

At its last meeting, the board was deadlocked on whether to rezone the property from residential to commercial. City Planner Walter Rasmussen recommended against it.

However, a majority of the city plan commissioners felt Richmond Street is becoming more commercial.

Mrs. Stillings said there was no need to rezone the land as there was ample commercial property now available on the other side of Richmond Street.

"Getting a Break" She said in rezoning residential land to commercial the owner was "getting a break" financially.

"I don't think it is proper to strip zone like this," Mrs. Stillings said. "We are merely driving businesses out farther when we do this sort of a thing."

"Because of this type of rezoning we have empty store fronts downtown," Mrs. Stillings said.

Voting against the rezoning with her was Commissioner Richard Van Sistine.

Defer Two Requests

Two requests to rezone properties in other parts of the city from single family to business light industrial so they could be used for parking lots were held in abeyance.

Rasmussen suggested the commission recommend the council amend the ordinance which would give the board of appeals the power to make an exception to permit a parking lot in a residential area.

This would eliminate the need for rezoning. Once residential is rezoned to another category there is no assurance a parking lot or industrial building will be built on the site.

Kindergarten at Kimberly Sets Visiting Days

KIMBERLY — Visiting days for youngsters who will be attending kindergarten for the 1964-65 school year will be held Wednesday and Thursday with visitors to accompany children currently attending.

Regular kindergarten students will not attend school on these days unless they bring a guest. Parents who do not know anyone to send their child to school with may bring the student, but will not be allowed to remain themselves.

Parents are asked to have name tags pinned to youngsters. Kindergarten schedule at Kimberly is 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. Combined Locks kindergarten classes are from 8:45 to 11:15 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. enrolled in 27 groups, and 80 more were on the waiting list. Expansion of the program will take care of those on the waiting list and an additional 80 students if necessary, AVS Director Carl Bertram said.

Enrollment will far surpass last year's record of 400 high school students and adults in the program.

In other action, the board approved: —Payment of $10,000 for the dewatering system installed to halt the slippage problem on the hillside below the school. The four dewatering wells are draining about 125 gallons of water a day from the hillside.

—A proposal to create a second drafting room by remodeling the present finishing room and additional area from the woodworking department this summer. The room will accommodate 18 students and cost $4,011 for remodeling work and equipment.

—Continuation for another year of the manual arts program for high school students, used by Xavier students. The program will include one group of 18 students who will take drafting and woodworking for one semester each.

Menasha Lawyer Named to Post in Frinzi Campaign

MENASHA — City Atty. Richard Steffens today was named to serve as vice president of Frinzi for Governor committee in support of Milwaukee Atty. Dominic H. Frinzi, who has declared his intention of seeking the state executive office.

Steffens, when asked to confirm the appointment, this morning expressed surprise that he had been chosen for the post.

"It's news to me," he said. Steffens noted that Frinzi had asked Steffens for support "but I didn't know I would be put on a committee," he said.

Frinzi is expected to enter the September primary for governor of Wisconsin in opposition to Gov. John Reynolds.

Steffens noted that he has not supported any individual political party in the past but will support Frinzi on the Democratic ticket.

Other members of the committee who will be serving with Steffens in behalf of the Frinzi campaign are Roman Papke, president; Arthur Graenicher of Campbellport, vice president; Dr. Vito Jurdalabona, Wauwatosa, secretary; and Joseph Wolf of Mequon, treasurer.

Steffens said he is supporting Frinzi out of a long friendship and with mutual opposition to incumbent Gov. Reynolds.

Plan Commission Approves Rezoning for Apartment Building

Another step was taken today which may lead to construction of apartment buildings in Mason Heights on Appleton's northwest side.

The plan commission, with several residents of the area agreeing, approved the rezoning of lots for the Lerco Corp.

It was recommended that the council approve two-family and four-family apartment construction in the area located east of N. Summit Street extended, bounded on the east by N. Locust St. and South by W. Lindbergh Street.

The commission also recommended the council enter into a land trade which would give to the city small pieces of land kindergarten classes are from near Appleton and Lawrence intersections.

Use Natural Resources

3Day Outing at Green Lake Camp Slated for Kaukauna 6th Graders

Sixth grade pupils in the Kaukauna district are to spend three days outdoors for classes at Camp Robinhood, Green Lake, Wednesday through Friday.

Using the resources of the outdoors, the students will study nature, arithmetic, art, gun safety, science and woodland first aid.

The outdoor educational program is not a recreational or athletic experience, school officials emphasize. But the youngsters probably will add fun to the unusual academic program.

The three sixth grades, two from Park School and one from Harrison School in Sherwood, will take part in the three-day camping program. Mrs. Dallas Werner is director.

Stay in Cabins They will stay in cabins at the camp, and eat in the main lodge.

Students will be divided into six groups. Each of the six teachers will teach his subject to all six groups, in a "round robin" class schedule. Teachers will be Orlando Jansen, Ronald Weeninger, Ken Smith, Ken Roloff, Miss Myra Hill and Vernon Young.

The nature hike will follow a planned trail through the camp forest, with students identifying and discussing plants, animals and trees. They will bring samples back to camp for display and to be used for further activities.

Study Measurement The arithmetic class will concentrate on a study of measurement, including area and perimeter. Pupils will receive instructions on such topics as pacing, measurement of broad feet of trees, computing their commercial value and drawing scaled maps.

Art class pupils will receive instruction in using nature's materials in composing designs and in creative drawing.

Air rifles, not firearms will be used for instruction in the safe handling of a gun.

The science class will cover wind erosion, soil conservation, temperatures in different areas of the forest and the general relationship of atmosphere, climate and balance of nature.

Pupils also will receive instruction in caring for oneself and others in a situation where medical aid is not readily available.

Extension of Curriculum All classes are an extension of what is normally covered in the sixth grade curriculum, teachers point out.

In addition to this, the children will receive guidance in health habits and personal cleanliness, group singing of camp songs, experience social living and cooperation, accepting personal responsibilities, table manners, respect to the flag, making decisions, planning a balanced menu, appreciation of nature and conservation.

Students unable to participate in the program because of delicate health and other reasons will be given assignments on the sixth grade level to complete while attending another classroom for the three days. Students are instructed to bring rainwear. Most classes

Instrumental, Chorus

AHS Music Department To Present Concert

The Appleton High School music department will present its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school auditorium.

The concert, open to the public, will follow a meeting of the Music Parents at 7:15 p.m. in the Early American Room.

Featured in the concert will be the Terror Band and the concert band, directed by Frank Comella; the chorus, directed by Lester Schulz, and the orchestra, directed by Harold Hotcherli.

The chorus will open the program with "All in the April Evening" by Robertson. Other selections will be "Swell the Full Chorus" by Handel and "The Paper Reeds by the Brooks" by Thompson. Jackie Barlow will be the soloist for "Roll Charlie" by Cain, which the chorus will follow with "The Woodchuck Song," a rhythm antic by Simone.

Herbert Tunes Kaaren Miles will be the featured soloist in "Romany Life" from Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller," followed by "Thine Alone," another Herbert tune, with Lynda Reynolds and Bruce Witter singing a duet. The chorus selections will conclude with "Lonesome Road" by Ehret, "The Me Kangaroo Down, Sport" by Harris, and "The Nation's Creed" by Willian.

The orchestra will play the first movement of "Piano Concerto Op. 488 A Major" by Mozart, "Chaconne for String Orchestra" by Johann Pachelbel, "Frederick the Great Overture" from "Symphony in G Major" by Johann Gottlieb Graun, and "Paul Bunyan Suite" by William Bergsma.

The Terror Band will play "Sequoia" by Homer LaGassey and "Manacabo" by John Morrice.

Concluding the program will be selections by the concert band, which will open with "Over the Banks and Brakes O' Bonnie Doon" by Percy Grainger, followed by the allegro, staccato and allegro spiccato movements of "Concerto" by Fritz Valke. Alfred Reed's "Ode for Trombone" and "Jubilant Overture" by Robert Ward will conclude the band's selections.

Adult Schools Pick Delegates To Committee

Will Study Plan For Fox Cities Area Vocational Facility

The five Fox Cities vocational and adult school boards are appointing delegates to a joint committee to develop a proposal for an area vocational school.

The committee, set up at a joint meeting of the boards last month, is to be made up of the school directors and one member from each board.

A meeting will be scheduled as soon as a recommendation on a joint school is received from C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education and the final board appointments are made, according to Appleton Vocational and Adult School Director Carl Bertram. Greiber spoke at the boards' joint meeting and urged them to proceed with area planning.

Delegates Appointed Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education has appointed George Howden, board president, as its delegate to the planning committee, and R. W. Mahony Sr., vice president, as alternate. Howden was named temporary chairman of the committee until it convenes at the joint meeting.

Kimberly board named Peter Ruys, vice president, as its delegate and Joseph Mazanetz as alternate. The Menasha board named Douglas Hyde, vice president, as its delegate, and will appoint an alternate later.

Neenah board has named Thomas Ryan as its delegate, and William Peterson as alternate.

Kaukauna board will select its delegate and alternate Tuesday.

Outagamie May Challenge State Policy Requiring Homes to Allow Patients to Come and Go at Will

BY RAY PY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Outagamie County officials may challenge a State Department of Public Welfare policy which calls for unlocked doors in all nursing and old age homes.

Golden Age Home Supt. John Engel today told officials he may challenge the practicality of the policy handed down by state welfare officials which allows old age and nursing home patients the right to come and go as they please.

Engel told County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer the state department of public welfare has been "pressuring" the Golden Age Home in Outagamie County "to comply" with the state policy to leave all doors in the home open at all times. Engel said it has not been the policy of the Golden Age Home to allow outside doors open on a 24-hour basis.

"Voluntary" Patients According to Thomas Lucas, State Department of Public Welfare head, patients living in the old age or nursing homes are "voluntary" patients, not committed patients. They, therefore, cannot be "locked up" against their will.

Engel said he planned a meeting with Lucas soon to discuss the ruling. He said it may be necessary to legally challenge the ruling.

Several recent incidents including the death of a Golden Age home patient who wandered away from the home have made it necessary to lock the outside doors, Engel said. He said many of the patients in the nursing section and Golden Age Home are "wanderers" and do not have any idea where they are heading once they get going.

Transfer 'Wanderers' Engel said several private nursing homes have transferred patients to the county institutions because they have not been able "to keep an eye" on them.

In a letter to the Outagamie County Golden Age home, Lucas is reported to have stated that it may be necessary to hire more supervisory help to comply with the ruling. Lucas also is reported to have suggested the doorways be wired so supervisory help know when they are being used.

If the "several dozen" doors which Golden Ages may have access to were kept open on a 24-hour basis, Engel estimated, he would have to hire about six extra attendants.

Room Doors Unlocked

He said there are at least two attendants on duty at the hospital at all times, but it is impossible to watch each of 90 old age patients at every minute. Doors to the patients' private quarters are never locked.

Some doorways which lead to dangerous concrete stairways are kept locked at all times, Engel said, for the safety of the patients as well as the employees.

Engel has suggested Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath prepare a "release" from damage to be signed by relatives of patients if the ruling is to be put into effect. He said the county could be liable for heavy damages if old age or nursing patients are allowed to wander about the outside of the building at all times.

Traffic Pattern Changes Are Recommended

Would Permit Parking Ramp Exit On Oneida Street

Recommendations affecting the downtown traffic pattern and permitting H. C. Prange Co. a N. Oneida Street opening to its parking ramp have been approved by the Appleton public safety committee.

Final action will be taken by the common council at its regular meeting Wednesday night. It has been recommended that:

—"No parking" zones be created on both sides of Oneida from Lawrence streets to College Avenue.

—Parking be prohibited on the west side of N. Oneida Street between College Avenue and Washington Street.

—The right hand traffic lane between Lawrence Street and College Avenue for right turn and/or straight ahead traffic.

—The middle lane between Lawrence and Washington streets, and the right hand traffic lane between College and Washington, be for straight ahead traffic only.

Considered Parking Ban Originally, the committee considered eliminating parking on both sides of Oneida Street from Lawrence to Washington streets. There was some opposition to this from businesses along the route.

On another matter which has been in and out of committee for months, the public safety committee approved a revised plan for traffic flow for the Prange parking ramp, and asked the street-sanitation committee to review its position.

The proposal now calls for the closing of the ramp exit on Washington Street, construction of a new entrance on N. Oneida Street, and changing of the entrance on Appleton Street so it can be used as the exit.

City Planner Walter Rasmussen and Police Chief Earl O. Wolff have said the new plan will work.

Appleton Youth Fined $50 for Drinking Beer In Moving Automobile

James D. Quella, 17, 1827 S. Jefferson St., was fined $50 and costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday after he pleaded guilty of drinking beer in a moving car. He was arrested May 10 by Appleton police.

Warren Schroeder, 17, 1015 N. Appleton St., and Robert C. Wohlrahe, 19, Readfield, Wis., were sentenced in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 to 45 days in the Outagamie County jail after they pleaded guilty of furnishing beer to minors. They had been arrested by Appleton police May 9.

Quella and Schroeder were waived from juvenile court supervision.

Kaukauna Grass Fire

KAUKAUNA — Firemen were called at 12:55 p.m. Friday to extinguish a grass fire near the railroad tracks on Depot Street. No damage resulted and cause of the blaze is believed to have been sparks from a train.

Frank Comella, recently appointed the first supervisor of music for the Appleton public schools, rehearses the Appleton High School band for the annual spring concert of the AHS music department at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the school auditorium. As music supervisor, he will coordinate the music program from kindergarten through 12th grade, and will continue teaching half-time. It will be decided this week whether or not he will continue as high school band director. Featured in the spring concert will be the Terror Band, the concert band, the orchestra and the chorus. 'The Cave Dwellers' Performances Are Genuine in AHS Production of Tough Saroyan Play

BY DON E. JONES

Managing Director, AHS Theatre

In a world which seems anxious to tear itself apart, William Saroyan's play, "The Cave Dwellers," comes as a bit of gentle common sense. It is a short, too, for it is slated to be razed to make way for new buildings. They are faded, theatrical people and we watch them use love in a world full of hate to make the pain of living bearable.

Impressive Queen

The Queen, as played by Constance McIntyre, impressed us with her bearing and her energy. Her Queen was at once regal and faded. Perhaps one of the play's best moments occurred in a dream sequence when Miss McIntyre views her young self, danced effectively by Norma Jostmann, in a shimmering pool of pink light while she stands, smooth efficiency of Burrough's light of the present.

Ronald Kirt had a difficult assignment. He was called on to show us authority, bearing, age and frustration. His physical rendering of his role was interesting and his ability to move attests to his skill as a performer.

Steven Hubin, as the Duke, Christopher Dahl, as the father, Annette Baron, as the girl and Susan Bahcall, as the mother, presented us with convincing characterizations of other persons lost in the world and found in this deserted theatre.

Special Notes

A few special notes might be in order here. John Morin, who spent the entire evening encased in a bear suit, must have been the most uncomfortable actor in the cast. He was in the most uncomfortable actor in the cast.

K-C Neenah Mill Life Members To Welcome 25 New Inductees

NEENAH — Twenty-five new members will be introduced at the Life Member gathering of Kimberly-Clark Corp.'s Neenah Mill Tuesday at the company's Marketing Center.

The new members, bringing the mill's club total to 147, include Arthur A. Woehler, Marcelle A. Stein, Carl A. Gerlach, Rudolph J. Rancek, John G. Schreiber, Anna Olson, Harold G. Rank, Leo H. Mader, Herman G. Kuehl, George G. Klenka, Franklin E. Post, Robert W. Grantin, Herbert H. Hildebrandt, Mike A. Ziolkowski, Julius N. Cumber, Henry Hart, Ella M. Waters, Leonard E. Hedberg, Amy C. Schuette, Richard C. Ponto, Elmer A. Ehke, Philip S. Hoffman, John H. Shea, Harry Sanders and Harold E. Terrien.

William R. Kellett, director of Kimberly-Clark Corporation and its executive consultant, will be speaker at the program which is to follow the noon luncheon. F. D. Hollenbeck, Neenah Mill manager, will be master of ceremonies.

Kimberly-Clark Corp. has 1,100 retired employees in its corporate-wide life member clubs. The General Offices life members had their dinner gathering today, the Neenah Paper mill life members will gather for a similar party May 27. May 21 is the date for the Niagara Mill's pensioner party. Kimberly-Clark plants have a combined gathering for the life members in December of each year.

5 Hurt in Two Auto Accidents

New Holstein Area Girls Hospitalized After Car Overturns

CHILTON—Five persons were injured in two separate accidents in Calumet County over the weekend.

A one-car mishap at 5:45 p.m. Sunday on County Trunk T two miles south of Hayton injured four passengers in a car driven by Shirley A. Bonlander, 20, route 1, New Holstein.

At Calumet Memorial Hospital for observation are Judy Koenen, 19, and Mary Ann Engel, 18, both of route 2, New Holstein. Treated and released were Shirley Stemper, 19, New Holstein, and Diane Wiesner, 22, Plymouth. All received head injuries.

Miss Bonlander told county police the car she was driving pulled off the road as she applied the brakes. The eastbound car was traveling east when it left the road and overturned.

Cars driven by Arnold D. Strauch, 37, 614 N. Lane St., Appleton, and Bonnie Jurek, 19, 633 Seventh St., Menasha, collided at 12:40 a.m. Friday on State 55 and 114, one mile west of Sherwood Johanna Strauch, 36, suffered bruises and shock. She was not hospitalized.

Police said Strauch was heading west on State 55—114 when the Jurek auto backed into the highway from a driveway.

Damage in both mishaps was estimated at more than $100.

Protestants From 41 States Join In Demonstration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clergymen and church laymen from 41 states and the District of Columbia gathered on Capitol Hill today for a "silent, prayerful procession" and personal pleas to senators for prompt passage of the civil rights bill.

The demonstration came as the Senate began its 11th week of debate on the measure, stalled by Southern oratory.

The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of the Episcopal Washington Cathedral, led a prayer service before the march began at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, two blocks east of the Capitol.

Great Moral Issue

Some 200 persons, representing states from as far away as Alaska, took part in the demonstration, sponsored by the Commission on Religion and Race

Former Announcer At WNAM Succumbs

NEENAH — Gregg Dunn, 41, former announcer and entertainer at Radio Station WNAM, collapsed and died while working on a production set in Hollywood, Calif., last Thursday. He had been employed at WNAM for about six years from 1948 to 1955. He had been employed in TV, radio, movies and theater in California and had appeared in such shows as "The Untouchables," "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Gunsmoke." He also made TV commercials and in the area has been seen recently as Barney, the oil station attendant. The widow and four children survive.

Plan Group Will Study Appeal to Vacate Street

St. Therese Parish Asks Block of N. Durkee Closed for Construction of New Gymnasium

Another request to vacate a block of N. Durkee Street in connection with an expansion project planned by St. Therese Parish was taken under advisement today by the Appleton Plan Commission.

The congregation intends to build a new gymnasium-activity center which would occupy part of the street. Other requests to vacate were made previously.

Although the issue did not come to a vote, there appeared to be some opposition to the request at this time, pending more information on the proposed building project and its effect on the traffic in the area.

The block to be closed is between Wisconsin Avenue and Summer Street.

The Rev. Wagner explained about 1,200 children attend the school and would use the gym facilities. In addition it would be used for many other activities.

Closing of the street was requested so the parish buildings could be consolidated. Otherwise the gym would be across the street from the school.

OKC Entries Do Well in Dog Show

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh Kennel Club members came away from the Winnegamie Dog Club's show Sunday with several ribbons and championship points.

Mrs. Louie Cahn, Ripon, put two more points on her Samoyed bitch and now is only two points away from her champion title.

Clarence Deniger, Oshkosh, was second in the open dog class with his Labrador retriever and went on to the reserve winner. Mrs. John Kasper, also of Oshkosh, took reserve honors with her airedale terrier.

The William Wrucks of Neenah added two more points and now have eight toward the championship of their standard poodle, Gaea.

In the obedience ring, Mrs. Robert Piette of Appleton earned a second leg toward her companion dog degree with her miniature Schnauzer and with another of her dogs placed fourth in the Open A class.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zielsdorf, Pine River, completed the C.D. degree on one of their Siberian huskies and also took a reserve winners dog ribbon with another of their Siberians.

Police Begin Manhunt — ? For Missing Plant, Shrub

MENASHA — Police here are searching for what has jokingly been referred to as a giant rabbit following reports of various plantlife, including a portion of a hedge, missing in the city.

William M. Ott, 800 Jefferson St., reported a portion of his hedge missing.

A woman resident of the 700 block of Milwaukee Street called police and reported three men came into her yard Friday night and dug up one of her lilac bushes.

The woman said she watched the men for two hours working on the plant but didn't call police because she was afraid the men would be gone by the time they arrived and police might think she was "nuts."

She told police she overheard the men say they would be back for the other bush later.

Police also are investigating a report by Douglas R. Hudson, 261 Kaukauna St., Menasha, that someone took his fishing tackle box from his home.

Gerald Suen, 134 First St., Menasha, reported someone broke in his car during the weekend while it was parked in an uptown alley. A flashlight was the only article found missing.

Stock Market Slow Mixed

Wider Moves Are Among Speculative Stocks and Bonds

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was hesitant and mixed early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

Wider moves occurred among some of the more speculative issues.

Texas Gulf Sulphur, which spurred 5 points Friday, was down 3/4 on an opening block of 15,000 shares but later more than recouped the loss and showed a net gain exceeding 2, making a new high.

Boeing and Xerox, up about 2 each, were among other standouts. IBM's new stock, split 5-for-4, was down about 2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1 at 307.3 with industrials off 1, rails up .7 and utilities off 1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .45 at 825.78.

The list was kept on an even keel by a preponderance of small plus signs among the rails which reported attracting a steady supply of long-term investment money.

A 1-point gain by Du Pont helped bolster the averages.

Steels were unchanged to easy.

Polarsoid fell 3, U.S. Smelting more than a point.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Stahl, Kargus Take Thirds in Outboard Races

MENASHA — Thirds by Marty Stahl in C service and Vern Kargus in A utility were the top places garnered by Twin City drivers in the Wisconsin Stock Utility Outboard Race Club's "ice breaker" Sunday at Kaukauna.

Dan Cartwright, Oshkosh, won the B stock hydro race and Paul Flack, Oshkosh, was first in D stock hydro. Cartwright won on faster time as he and Bob Herling of Sheboygan tied for first with 700 points. Jim Komorowski, Oshkosh, placed third in D utility and Gary Flack, Oshkosh, was third in D stock hydro.

Other winners were Charles Zajick, Berwyn, Ill., C service; Barbara Frazier, Milwaukee, J utility; Russ Eckman, Theresa, A utility; Stover Hire, Syracuse, Inc., B utility; Gary Stippich, Milwaukee, C utility; Bill Leutner, Milwaukee, D utility; Gary Stippich, Milwaukee, C utility; Bill Leutner, Milwaukee, D utility; Charles Erdman, Milwaukee, A stock hydro; and Wil Pegrande, Milwaukee, C stock hydro.

Sayre, in the brief service, said civil rights, and particularly school segregation, was one of the most important moral issues of our time.

Then, the group held an hour-long briefing session to plan the day. They also heard from staff assistants to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., floor leaders for the civil rights bill.

John Stewart, Humphrey's legislative assistant, said he felt the civil rights bill "is in the home stretch." He urged the group to press for a debate limitation, which he felt must be imposed in the next two or three weeks.

Steve Horn, legislative assistant to Kuchel, said he felt "a formula for an acceptable bill is at hand."

Next, the group began its march on the Capitol.

Three Awards in Each Class:

Three merchandise prizes will be awarded for each species classification... 24 prizes in all. This year a new classification — for "Muskie" — has been added. The "Master Angler" who have the three heaviest fish in each division will be awarded prizes on the basis of first, second and third place according to the weight of the fish. The heaviest fish, of course, are those which will qualify for awards. No duplicate prizes will be awarded. Only three prizes for each division for the fish properly and officially weighed and registered. Winners will be announced after September 30, 1964.

Another Post-Crescent employee and his immediate family are eligible for merchandise awards.

Here's How to Qualify and Win Big Prizes

St. Mary Pupils Will Present Piano Recitals

Music Students Earn Awards in National Auditions

Piano recitals today and Tuesday will culminate many months of work for piano pupils at St. Mary Catholic School.

In February students participated in diocesan auditions. Eileen Mauthe, Ellen Kennedy and Nancy Kennedy were chosen to play in an honor recital at Holy Family College, Manitowoc.

On April 14, 20 pupils in the piano department took part in auditions sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. The National Members of the National Federation of Student Musicians were required to play 10 pieces for the judge.

James Hendricks of Xavier High School and Barbara Milhaupt were awarded special passes for five-year period as National Members. Their pictures will appear in the 1964 Guild Yearbook.

Eileen Mauthe and Sarah O'Brien received awards as four-year National Members. Mary Kennedy and Sue Ann Gatz for three-year membership, and Ellen Kennedy, Maureen Kennedy, Mary Hauch, Bonnie Balliet and Kathie McGinnis were each honored with a two-year award. Beginning their first year as National Members were Susan Hendricks and Nancy Kennedy.

Michael Groh of St. Joseph School and Laura Balliet earned state membership.

District memberships were received by Mary Clare Groh, student at St. Joseph School, as well as Patricia Goodyear, Amy Coenen, Michelle Toal, Ellen Evans, Steve Gillen William Martin and Diane DeDecker of St. Mary's.

Marcie Jachec also entered two original piano pieces in a composition contest sponsored by the Guild.

Barbara Milhaupt and Eileen Mauthe, eighth grade students, won the honor of competing in the State Talent contest sponsored by the Catholic War Veterans at Madison on May 23. They will play a duet, "Fiddle Fiddle."

Organ Guild Annual Meeting Held in Appleton

Members of the Northeastern Wisconsin chapter of the American Guild of Organists met Sunday afternoon in All Saint's Episcopal Church to hear a recital by students of the chapter, and to conduct their annual business meeting.

The group heard music of Bach, Murrill and Mulet played by Lawrence Conservatory organists Kenneth Happe, Ripon; John Machell, Bethlehem, Pa.; John Hall, Eagle River; John Hebblethwaite Libertyville, Ill.; preparatory student Paul Emmons 1225 W. Winnebago; and Judith Kort, Wisconsin State College-Stevens Point.

Following the recital, the chapter adjourned to the church parlors for a pot-luck supper and business meeting. Re-elected to offices were Gladys Michalsen, 1124 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, dean; Edith Rentner, 70 River Dr., sub-dean; and Clinton DeWitt, Oconto, treasurer. Elected to the vacant secretary's post was Mrs. David Harris, Ripon.

A major item of business was a discussion of the group's continuing program for choirmasters, organists and others interested in church music in this area. The guild has as its aim the promotion of high standards of church musicianship.

Eleven AVS Students Get Merit Awards at Program

Eleven Appleton Vocational and Adult School students received merit awards at the annual student award program today in Trinity Lutheran Church parish hall.

Merit awards for the top students in each department were presented to Jerold Kieberg, Appleton, auto mechanics; Dale Westphal, route 2, Marion, drafting; Rex Marx, Shiocton, electronics; Melvin Huchison, Manawa, machine shop; Roger Boese, Oshkosh, printing; Marjorie Hartfield, Menasha, home economics; Cyril Fischer, Appleton, business administration; Edward Mauthe, Kimberly, business administration - sales and marketing; Steven Boese, Appleton, junior accounting; Marion Holtschuh, Kaukauna, stenographic - secretarial, and Virginia Boelke, Appleton, data processing.

Herbert Heible, Appleton High School principal, spoke to the assembly on "The Meaning of Awards."

Joe Gunderson, coordinator of the School of Business, presented the awards. Cyril Fischer gave the response for the award winners.

Mrs. Robert Runch, homemaking coordinator, presided at the award program.

Chamber Official Urges AVS to Take Federal Aid

Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, has urged the Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education "to take advantage of the funds that the federal government is going to make available to schools like yours."

Corbett wrote Appleton Vocational School Director Carl Bertram after attending the annual meeting of the National Chamber of Commerce, at which one program was devoted to vocational education and technical schools. Particular emphasis was placed on retraining, and the vocational schools of Wisconsin were used as an example, he said.

"I know that you are well aware of this situation, and you and your board are well aware of your opportunities. This is more a letter of applause and encouragement," Corbett wrote. Appleton Vocational School has accepted federal aids for homemaking, agricultural and other programs and under the Vocational Education for National Defense Act for a number of years. Additional funds for vocational schools were made available through federal legislation passed last year.

Holy Cross Recitals Set Friday

KAUKAUNA — Holy Cross School of Music under the direction of Sister M. Alvara will present recitals at 7:45 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the school.

Included in the program will be piano, organ, violin, accordion and guitar solos and duets. Taking part in the Thursday program will be David Niesen, Debra Witt, Peggy Gustman, Diane Deering, Joan Bodde, Jane Ann Lang, Debbie Daanen, Beth Ann Zummeren, Lou Ann Niesen, Christy Weyers, Mary Ann Vanevenhoven, Nancy Lappen, Patty Jeffrey and Kathy Jeffrey. Others are Terri Lee Van Dyke, Cheryl Walker, Janice Blair, Mark Van Zummeren, Mary Hietpas, Lisa Vanden Heuvel, Suzanne Schommer, Janet Wieseler, Paula Vanden Boom, Ann Vanden Boom, Patty Nischel, Jane Nischel, Anne Nischel, Michael Valentyn, Tim Valentyn, Tony Giordana, Ricci Giordana, Mary Lee Scherer, Cathy Kiffe, Jane Fleming, Peggy Roberts, Kevin O'Connor and David Lang.

Methodist Men Will Fete Ladies Thursday At Dinner Meeting

Ladies night will be observed by Methodist Men's Club at its dinner meeting at First Methodist Church at 6:15 p.m. Thursday.

Dr. John Adams, pastor of the Oshkosh Methodist Church and formerly of Detroit, will be the speaker.

New officers for the coming year will be installed. They are Melvern M. Hemmen, president, Wilmer A. Krueger, vice president, Howard Locklin, secretary, Donald Bengt, treasurer, and Philip Ottman, recorder.

AVS to Offer Reading Class

Only Graduates of High School Eligible For Summer Session

The Appleton Vocational and Adult School will offer an accelerated reading course this summer, according to Milton J. Noss, coordinator.

The course will be for high school graduates and college students only. It will emphasize reading rate, vocabulary and comprehension.

The first section will start June 15 and end July 3 and the second section will start July 8 and end July 24. The class will meet from 1 to 3 p.m. daily under the instruction of Thomas O'Hearn. Each section will be limited to 20 students.

Aids to Course

Reading accelerators, reading library, tachistoscope and books will be used in the course.

The course is being offered because of the demand from high school graduates who are planning to attend college and want to improve their reading skills.

It also is geared for the college student who finds a need for improvement.

Registrations are being accepted at the vocational school office. No telephone registrations are accepted. The student fee will be $10.

A minimum of 18 students must enroll for the course to be held, according to AVS Director Carl Bertram.

Black Creek Lake to Open For Summer

BY PAT DUFFEY

BLACK CREEK — A new six-acre lake under construction since last fall, will open in this northern Outagamie County community soon for the summer season.

The lake, owned by Black Creek Homecoming Corp., is adjacent to the village park in a former swamp area. It is part of a recreation facility which in time will include a wild life refuge.

The lake movement was sparked by Gordon Bubolz, Appleton, who spoke to the Black Creek Advancement Association last year about the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission. Last fall Murphy Construction Co., Black Creek, along with survey assistance from the Appleton office of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) started construction. Working closely together were Vernon Geiger of the SCS office and Leo Stepanik, project manager for the Black Creek firm. Robert Turkow was general chairman for the advancement association.

Various community organizations have started fund raising projects designed to improve the facilities. The women plan to purchase playground equipment with their funds and booster buttons are being sold to defray existing expenses.

Plans include a bath house designed with a flat roof to be used as a stage. A concession stand also will be constructed. When the present lake is paid for by the corporation, it will be turned over to the village as a community project. Major funds are expected to be netted from the village's annual summer homecoming celebration at the park.

The lake will provide swimming facilities for the Fox River Valley area which the corporation hopes to attract. Abutting the north flank of the park will be a wide sandy beach. Camping facilities are under study.

The first 80 feet of the lake will only be two feet deep. The next 50 will be three and one-half feet deep. After that the lake will slope to six feet and taper off to the final depth of 14 feet. Each section will be marked.

Golden Agers to Air Appleton Dance Plans

KIMBERLY — Reservations will be accepted and bus transportation worked out for the Appleton dance at a meeting of the Golden Age Club at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the village hall meeting rooms.

The Kimberly Club has been invited to join the Appleton Golden Agers for a May 27 dance at the Cinderella, but reservations are needed to permit adequate transportation, noted Chet Barrand, president.

Appleton High Actors Give Genuine Saroyan Production

the group, but his bear was believable and restrained. Richard Rothe, in his role of the Silent Boy, had to convince us without uttering a word and Thomas Roemer, as a Negro workman, must be commended for handling his role with the taste that a changing world demands. Burton Hem appeared in the closing scenes as the boss of the wrecking crew. He brought authority and compassion to a role which helps to put the whole play in proper perspective. Thomas Romenesko, Ann Reetz, Gary Meade, Richard Blackburn, Julie Bassett, and Leann Siedschlag appeared briefly in the dream sequence and rounded out the cast.

Tempered Enthusiasm

Working in such a large audience and a curse. Since it is so large the group is only allowed to play one performance. This doesn't really give them a chance to "shake down" their performances. At one point in the play a character pleads with another saying, "Would you please speak" and this reviewer must temper his enthusiastic remarks about a good performance with this critical note. A large hall demands a large voice, crisp enunciation and projection. Some of Schoeni's actors were not playing for the entire audience and we regretted missing those lines we were forced to miss.

Schoeni and his actors and Burroughs and his crews should be commended for undertaking Saroyan's good words.

Farewell Tea Planned for AHS Faculty

Retiring, Resigning Teachers Will be Honored at Event

Faculty and staff members at Appleton High School have been invited to a farewell tea Tuesday afternoon honoring all who are retiring or resigning from AHS.

Former faculty and staff members who are still in the area also have been invited.

Two retirements will be honored: that of Principal Herbert H. Heible and of Miss Mary O'Leary, home economics teacher and present department head.

Others to be honored include Dr. Rudolph Schlueter, German and French teacher; Edward Flynn, social studies teacher; Miss Carolyn Schull, home economics teacher; James Fey, mathematics teacher; and Kurt Reglin, physics teacher.

Others Leaving

Mrs. Robert Kenney, Mrs. Lavern Quaes, Mrs. Donald Weisbaker, and Mrs. Graham Werner, all of the English department, also are leaving. The tea, which was planned by the faculty affairs committee under the chairmanship of Miss Annabelle Wolf, will begin at 4 p.m. Miss Adele Klumb and Miss Catherine Spence, former faculty members, will pass. Table decorations which feature pictures of faculty members peering through the windows of three-dimensional all-screened trains were designed by Harold Carlson.

Master of ceremonies will be Peter Glavenski. Gifts to the departing faculty will be presented by Heible, who also will introduce former faculty and staff members.

Appleton Native Gets Assistant Professor's Post at Michigan State

William W. Joyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Joyce, 212 Parkway Blvd., recently was appointed assistant professor of elementary and special education at Michigan State University.

Before coming to MSU, Joyce was an instructor in education and assistant to the director of the master of arts in teaching program at Northwestern University.

He has also been a research assistant at Northwestern and an elementary teacher at Lake Forest and Wauwegan, Ill.

Joyce is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, education fraternity; National Council for the Social Studies; American Educational Research Association; the National Society for the Study of Education; and the National Council for Geographic Education.

He is the co-author of a casebook, "Controversial Issues in Education," scheduled for publication in 1965.

Governors Agree GOP Contest Open

Think California Primary on June 2 the Determining Factor
In Selecting Party's Nominee

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Assessing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's Oregon victory, Republican governors agreed generally today that the contest for the GOP presidential nomination remains wide open.

Some of the seven state chief executives who responded to invitations to comment on their party's political situation indicated they think the June 2 California primary may be a decisive factor in determining the nominee.

Rockefeller, who won Oregon's 18 convention votes in that state's balloting Friday, faces Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in the last significant primary before the party convention opens here July 13.

Gov. John Anderson of Kansas, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said the Oregon primary in which Rockefeller topped U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, "shows the Republican nominee in San Francisco is not settled yet."

"Goldwater certainly is leading in delegates but I don't think it's in the bag," Anderson said.

Goldwater placed third in Oregon with Richard M. Nixon fourth.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho said the Oregon results will increase the importance of the California primary outcome.

"If Goldwater wins in California," Smylie said, "it is likely that he will be nominated on the first ballot. If it looks like that is what is going to happen, it would be smart for the Idaho delegation to go along with him."

Genuine Appeal
Gov. John H. Reed of Maine said Rockefeller's Oregon victory was "a tribute to his determination and his genuine appeal to the rank and file voters."

Reed said, "that Republicans want a moderate presidential candidate and one with proven ability as a vote-getter. The results certainly have boosted Gov. Rockefeller's stock and will make him a top contender at San Francisco."

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island said Rockefeller's Oregon victory had saved the New Yorker's candidacy.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who has said he would accept a genuine draft for the presidential nomination but doesn't expect that to happen, said Rockefeller deserved to win in Oregon.

Scranton, whose name was on the ballot, finished last behind Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, among six contenders in the balloting.

"My hat is off to Gov. Rockefeller," Scranton said. "He campaigned long and worked very hard."

Gov. Archie Gubbrud of South Dakota, who has said he leans toward Goldwater but heads an uncommitted delegate slate in his state's June 2 primary, said he didn't think the Oregon results changed the standing of the candidates.

"I don't see any more significance in the Oregon primary than in any of the others," Gubbrud said. "It just happens to be the most recent and that's the one we talk about."

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, scheduled to become temporary chairman of the July convention, said the results of his state's primary enhance Rockefeller's chances for the nomination. He said that, among other things, they proved the New York governor could win by hard campaigning.

Boy Stays on Fair's Grounds For Eleven Days

Had Planned to Stay All Summer,
But Got Homesick

NEW YORK (AP)—Dominick Tucci's run of the World's Fair ended Sunday after 11 days and nights. He thought it was a shame. He had planned to spend the summer there.

When Dominick, 12, left his Long Island home, he had hinted that he was bound for the fair. And that's where they found him, still the object of a 17-state police alert.

Somewhat disheveled, but well-fed, Dominick was reunited with his parents, five sisters and a brother.

"I got away from seven cops, and a woman had to catch me," he said.

Was Recognized
The woman, Naomi Salod, works at the fairgrounds and recognized him from newspaper pictures.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benito Tucci, had gone to the fair in Flushing Meadow, Queens, every day to look for him, but with no luck.

Dominick started his safari by sneaking aboard a Long Island Rail Road train at Port Washington, his hometown.

He climbed a fence to get into the fair. He said he was thrown out a couple of times, but just climbed back again.

Dominick ate well, picking up $6 a day retrieving good luck coins tossed into several fountains.

Slept in Pavilions
For sleeping, Dominick secluded himself in several pavilions, including one with a shipboard setting complete with lifeboat.

Was he afraid at night? "There's nothing to be afraid of," said Dominick. "The place is crawling with cops."

Was he glad he had been discovered? "I don't know," he said. "I'm a little homesick. I guess I'm glad."

Dominick's father is a bricklayer. His mother, Lillian, said of her oldest son, "He's adventurous, but not a bad boy."

Dominick, a seventh-grader at St. Peter's parochial school in Port Washington, is a Roman Catholic.

He said he ate hamburgers almost every day.

"I ate chow mein on Friday," he said.

Convention Opens
NEW YORK (AP) — The 39th national convention of the American Red Cross opens today, with 5,000 chapter delegates scheduled to attend.

Benito and Lillian Tucci of Port Washington in suburban Nassau County on Long Island, N. Y., greet their 12-year-old son, Dominick, at the New York World's fair Sunday to climax an 11-day adventure for the lad on the grounds. He was finally spotted by a woman who recognized him. (AP Wirephoto)

Public Apathy Toward Crime Definite Hindrance to Police

Record Many Instances of See No and Hear No Evil

BY CHARLES L. WEST

NEW YORK (AP) — Could you stand at your window and watch or hear a screaming woman vainly fight a knife-wielding killer for 35 minutes and never lift a hand to dial police?

Thirty-eight of Kitty Genovese's neighbors in Kew Gardens, Queens, did the night of last March 13.

Could you crowd around the glass doors or the stairwell of an office building and watch a nude young woman pleading for help as she fought off an alleged rapist? And never move to save her?

40 People
Forty people along East Tremont Avenue in the Bronx did in mid afternoon two weeks ago today.

Could you stand on the shore and watch two 10-year-old boys drown and the lone man who tried to save them almost lose his own life and never shove out in a boat to help?

Ten did at Atlantic City, N.J., 11 days ago.

They only watched. "Any of us could have been one of those people," said Dr. Smiley Blanton, a psychiatrist who with the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, co-founded the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry Clinic, a nondenominational clinic, here.

30 Seconds
"The difference is, in most of us it lasts for only 30 seconds." The unwillingness of the public to become involved caused New York City police to print a pamphlet, "Law and Order is a Two-Way Street," two years ago. In reissuing it after the Genovese slaying, Asst. Police Commissioner Walter Armistead said:

"This tendency to shy away from reporting crimes is a common one."

Asked why, he replied: "The whys are very deep in the minds of those who shy away. The most common answer we get is that they do not want to get involved. The tendency to mind your own business tends to be prevalent."

"We don't ask for direct intervention. All we ask is a quick call to police."

Element of Apathy
Dr. Esther Rothman, a psychologist and principal of New York City's only public school for emotionally disturbed girls, said "There has always been this element of apathy among us."

Dr. Blanton listed two reasons why people didn't help:

"The innate problem of hate, resentment, savagery and brutality which is in all of us. You only have to look at what Germany did during the war to realize how much hate there is in the unconscious mind of many people. Only through the grace of God can we overcome that."

"There must have been something in the situation that inhibited these people; they didn't want to get involved."

Recently, two potential suicides—from a building in Albany, N.Y., and from the superstructure of the Brooklyn Bridge—attracted crowds who taunted them to jump.

"The people who stand there and say 'Jump! jump!' are not too different from those who only stand and watch and don't act in a helpful way," Dr. Rothman said.

Child Feared Drowned; Found in Air Pocket Of Swamped Boat

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Several minutes after a boat occupied by two men and a boy was swamped on a lake here Sunday, it was feared the youngster had drowned.

C. E. Labojacky heard a faint cry of help, and the boat was towed to shallow water. Labojacky found his son, Stephen, 5, entangled in cables in an air pocket under the dashboard and unharmed 45 minutes after the swamping.

He apparently fell while riding or leading the horse and became entangled in the lead rope.

Cuban Exiles Hint Attacks Imminent

Promised Before May 20

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — New attacks on Communist Cuba by exile raiders Tuesday or Wednesday were hinted today by members of Miami's rebel exile colony.

Officially, they said nothing. But Manuel Ray, head of one action group, has promised to be fighting on Cuban soil before May 20 the nation's independence anniversary.

The exiles added it would not be surprising to hear that Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, head of another group specializing in guerrilla tactics, might be in action on May 10, anniversary of the battlefield death in 1896 of Cuban patriot Jose Marti.

Gutierrez Menoyo, former mayor in Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army, was one of the most successful guerrilla leaders against ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista. He turned against Castro when the Marxist regime became Communist.

Many here believe both Ray and Gutierrez Menoyo may be in Cuba now.

Sources in San Juan reported that Ray left Puerto Rico over the weekend.

Ray, 30, an engineer, went into hiding two weeks ago, after saying in a telephone interview that he would return to Cuba either alone or with two or three others to lead the underground on the island. He left behind a well-paying Puerto Rican government job, a wife and five children.

Rebellion Urged
Broadcasts heard in Miami from a station identifying itself as Radio Free Cuba, "transmitting from within Cuban territory" told the Cuban people the hour of the Communist "traitors is very near." It appealed to Castro's soldiers, militiamen and workers to rebel.

Exile leaders claim Castro's regime is ripe for ouster, but U.S. officials believe the Communist dictatorship has such a tight, police-state grip on Cuba as to make a popular uprising unlikely.

Refugee leaders said there will be a count Wednesday of ballots in a worldwide referendum among Cuban exiles on the question of setting up a five-man central junta as an anti-Castro representative body. Presumably it could serve as a provisional government if Castro's regime were overthrown.

Horse Drags Boy, 12, to His Death

MANSFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Dan Wesley Hughtitt Jr., 12, was dragged to death Sunday by a horse on a gravel road near his home.

He apparently fell while riding or leading the horse and became entangled in the lead rope.

Giants Sweep Pair From Mets; Dodgers Split

Rookie Ron Herbel, Bob Hendley Hurl Shutouts at Mets

BY HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Herbel is nearsighted and Jack Fisher is beginning to see the light.

Herbel is one of the young pitchers the San Francisco Giants were counting on when they let Fisher go to the New York Mets in the National League's "Help the Poor" draft last fall.

Manager Alvin Dark gave the rookie right-hander his first major league start in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader against Fisher and the Mets, but had Herbel know he'd only get two hits from his teammates, he might have declined the opportunity.

Fisher handcuffed the Giants for seven innings allowing only singles to Matty Alou in the

What Appears to be a Pushing match between Cleveland Indians' pitcher Tommy John (37) and second sacker Larry Brown (16) is merely an attempt by both of them to cover first at the same time. Detroit's Jerry Lumpe (9) had grounded to Cleveland's first baseman Fred Whitfield who missed the ball with Brown recovering—everyone headed for first Brown made the unassisted putout in the first inning of the twin-bill at Detroit Sunday. C-Sox Drop Foxes From First Place

Morris, Hooker Hurl 3-Hit Ball in 2-0 MTL Triumph

BY JOHN L. PAUTIAN Fox-Crescent Sports Editor

Tonight, the Fox Cities Foxes will strive to shake off their first batting slump of the young Midwest League season when they battle Clinton in the finale of a 5-game home stand.

Sunday afternoon, the defending champion C-Sox dealt the Foxes their second straight shutout at Goodland Field and tumbled the Fox Cities club from first place to third by prevailing, 3-0, in a slick mound duel.

Saturday night, the Foxes had bowed, 2-0, at Burlington. The two weekend losses were the first this season for the Foxes by more than 1-run margins. Decatur, an 8-1 winner over Cedar Rapids yesterday, has regained the league lead. Clinton is now second, a half-game ahead of Fox Cities.

Special Night The first "Ladies Night" and "Knot Hole Club Night" of the season will be observed tonight at Goodland Field.

Righthanders Jim Morris and Willie Hooker applied the white-wash brush to the Foxes yesterday, combining for a 3-hit ball before a crowd of 946—the second largest gathering of the home season—on "Fox Valley Lutheran High School Day."

Morris, the winner, was solved for two hits in the first inning, but he allowed only one more in his remaining five frames. Hooker, the mop-up man, was almost perfect, allowing only a walk in the final three innings.

Steve Caria, the loser, pitched well enough to win the vast majority of games. He allowed six hits and walked three (his best control performance of the season) before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning, the league's early-season strikeout sensation, fanned five to bring his total to 53 in 32 innings.

Henry King, who was charged with the C-Sox' second run, and Joe Costello finished up for the Foxes.

Clinton broke a scoreless tie in the fifth after its first two batters were retired. Pat Rigby then soaked a double to right center. Angel Bravo walked. Catcher Howard Wood slapped a single to center to score what proved to be the big run of the day.

The C-Sox added insurance in the ninth when Rich Severson tripled to right off King, and Jerry Wright singled to left off Costello.

The Foxes threatened in the first inning. John Sepich singled, but was forced by John Matias. May forced Matias, then stole second. Sorenson beat out a topser, sending May to third. Steven Huntz grounded out to end the threat.

Steve Owen, Former Coach Of Giants Dies

Held Record for Participating in Most NFL Title Tilts

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP)—Steve Owen, former New York Giants football coach, died early Sunday in Oneida City Hospital. He was 66.

"Stout Steve," as he was known in his 23-year coaching career with the Giants, was admitted to the hospital May 9. The cause of death was given as a cerebral hemorrhage.

The nature of his illness had not been disclosed. Owen suffered a heart attack two years ago but was said to have made a complete recovery.

Owen was a large, ruddy-faced man with a voice right out of a gravel pit and a disposition as placid as a mill pond. He coached the Giants from 1931 to 1953 without a contract.

LITTLE CHUTE — A 6-run outburst in the sixth inning brought Little Chute-Kimberly from behind for an 8-5 victory over Manitowoc in the Fox River Valley Baseball League opener here Sunday afternoon. The defending champion Papermakers were blanked through the first four innings while Manitowoc, a new entry in the league this year, moved to a quick 3-0 advantage.

LC-K came back with a pair of runs in the last of the fifth to make it 3-2 and then went ahead with the 6-run rally in the next frame. Manitowoc counted two more in the eighth but could overcome the Papermaker lead in the late stages of the tilt.

Get Four Hits The big sixth inning for the Papermakers included four hits, a pair of walks and a passed ball.

Winning pitcher, Faye Mehlberg, helped his own cause with a single during the rally that drove in a pair of runs. Mehlberg had two-for-three during the game and drove in three runs. He was touched for 19 of Manitowoc's 11 hits but kept them well scattered except for the eighth inning when he threw and allowed four safeties.

Al Harke came in to relieve and worked his way out of a jam in the ninth when Manitowoc loaded the bases with one out. Harke fanned the last two batters to end the game.

Wachel Hurls 1-Hitter As Kaukauna Klubbers Stop Fond du Lac, 5-0

Pitches Perfect Games for 7 2/3 Frames in Opener

KAUKAUNA — Leigh Wachel tossed a masterful 1-hitter here Sunday afternoon as the Kaukauna Klubbers opened the Fox River Valley League with a 5-0 victory over Fond du Lac.

Wachel had a perfect game going for 7 2/3 innings before losing his bid for a no-hitter.

With two out in the eighth Tim Garrity of Fond du Lac struck out for what would have been the third out to retire the side but the ball got away from the catcher and Garrity took first base. Dick Oman then rapped a solid double sending Garrity to third but Wachel bore down and retired the side.

The only other base runner for Fond du Lac was in the top of the ninth when another batter reached first when a third strike was dropped.

Six Strikeouts Wachel had six strikeouts in the game and did not issue a base on balls.

Jack Ankerson Signs Contract With Cards

Jack Ankerson, 3-sport star at Ripon College, signed a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League Sunday.

The Neenah native was a standout quarterback on the Midwest Conference championship team at Ripon during the 1963 season. He quarterbacked the Redmen in '61 and '62 also.

The Cardinals assistant coach Fran Patsfoot signed Jack to the 1964 contract on the Ripon campus.

Ankerson completed his 2-hustrious competitive athletic career at Ripon in the Midwest Conference tennis meet at Cedar Rapids, Ia. Saturday. He placed second in the No. 1 singles competition.

The versatile athlete also was a standout on Coach Kermit "Doc" Weiske's Redmen basketball team that won the Midwest Conference crown during the recently completed season.

Bill Eiring also saw mound duty in relief.

Kaukauna took the lead in the first inning when three runs scored on two errors, a passed ball and run-producing singles by Joe Wittman and Bruce Van-Evenhoven.

The Klubbers added single tallies in the fifth and seventh. The run in the seventh came when Ron Margoofsky doubled and Fred Steger singled him home.

Steger and John Lambie each had two hits to pace the 8-hit attack by the Klubbers.

Bennett, Veteran Driver, Killed In Speed Trials

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Veteran race driver Charles Bennett was killed Sunday when he was thrown from his high-powered stock car on the El Mirage dry lake bed.

Bennett, 48, of Tujunga, Calif., had just completed a speed run—he was clocked at 130 miles per hour—at the Southern California Timing Association speed trials.

Observers said Bennett was slowing down and turning to the left when the left front tire gave way, throwing Bennett and rolling the car.

Bailey, Menke, Alou Homer in Nightcap; Cards Take Opener

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Big Tony Cloninger is the latest "stopper" on the Milwaukee Braves' pitching staff.

Backed by a brief outburst of homers, Cloninger fired a six-hitter as the Braves snapped a five-game losing streak in defeating the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2 after dropping the opener of a doubleheader 7-3 Sunday before a sweltering crowd of 28,854.

Cloninger, a hard-throwing right-hander, struck out nine and walked only two in earning his third victory in five decisions. He lost a shutout bid when former batterymate Bob Uecker singled and Doug Clemens hit his first homer in the sixth.

In the opener, the Cardinals jumped on Milwaukee starter Hank Fischer for three runs, including sole homers by Bill White and Tim McCarver, in the second inning and breezed to an easy triumph behind the pitching of southpaw Curt Simmons, who boosted his record to 5-2.

Second Defeat

Fischer, charged with his second defeat in six decisions, was shelled from the mound in a two-run fifth. He was followed by Billy Hoelt, Phil Niekro and Jack Smith.

Simmons held the Braves scoreless until the ninth. Joe Torre reached on an error and scored on Rico Carty's double to left Frank Bolling doubled to right for the second run and Woody Woodward accounted for the third with a single, his first major league hit.

Cloninger was in command from the outset in a pitching duel with Ray Washburn in the second game. Ed Bailey broke a scoreless deadlock with his fourth homer, a drive over the right field roof, in the fifth. Denny Menke followed with his second homer, a smash to left.

Felipe Alou connected for his first homer with a tremendous clout which cleared the bleachers in left in the sixth. Alou also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Cloninger held the Cards hitless until Johnny Lewis tripled to left center with two out in the fifth. Then the 23-year-old hurler survived Clemens homer in the sixth and settled down. The Braves enjoyed a break in the schedule today before opening.

first and Orlando Cepeda in the second. Pitching for the Giants, it might have been good enough to win but hitting for the Mets ... not a chance.

Cepeda Did Damage
Cepeda, who slugged a three-run homer to back up Bob Kennedy's three-hitter for a 6-4 first game victory, did the damage. He stole second following his single, moved to third on a fly ball and scored when Fisher uncoiled a wild pitch. It was the only mistake the ex-Giant hurler made, but it was enough to beat him.

Herbal, who began wearing glasses in spring training, surrendered seven hits to Casey Stengel's ruseless wonders and pitched out of numerous jams. The double triumph marked the first Giant sweep since July 4, 1962 when—who else—the Mets were victimized 11-4 and 10-3.

While the Giants were sweeping, three other National League doubleheaders ended in splits. Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and the Pirates won the second game 2-1; St. Louis stretched Milwaukee's losing streak to five with a 7-3 victory in the opener before the Braves came back to take the nightcap 4-2. Chicago's four run ninth inning edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the opener before the Reds won the nightcap 7-1. In a night game at Houston, Philadelphia blanked the Colts 2-0.

The double shutout stretched the Mets' runless string to 24 innings but they could console themselves with the fact that Willie Mays is slumping too. The Say Hey Kid went 0-for-3 in the opener, dropping 11 points to 411, and then sat out the nightcap until the ninth inning when he went in as a defensive replacement. In a five-game slide which started in Houston, Mays has struggled through a 3-for-22 siege and dropped 67 points from a hefty 478.

The Phillies pulled the first triple play of the season against the Colts in the fifth inning.

Webster, Bluth Garner Fourth Doubles Crown

Pair Posts Record Final Game of $58; Dick Natches 300

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (AP)—A record $68 in the final round helped bowlers Dick Weber and Ray Bluth of St. Louis capture their fourth national match game doubles championships Sunday night.

In the big game, Weber shot his 12th sanctioned 300 and Bluth added a 252. Weber and Bluth bowled the 558 against challengers Tommy Tuttle, King, N.C., and Lou Frantz, Louisville, Ky., who had a 460. The victory virtually clinched the $2,500 first prize for the veteran St. Louisans, although there still were two games to be rolled in that block.

New Jersey's Dick Downey and Teata Semiz slipped into second place in the last round and the Tuttle-Frantz team finished third.

Standings were determined by total pin fall, plus a 100-point bonus for each game won. Bluth-Weber had 18,189. Downey-Semiz 15,871, $1,500. Tuttle-Frantz 15,654, $1,250. Weber averaged 227 and Bluth 219 for the 16 games.

Semiz bowled a 300 game earlier in the day. Other teams finished as follows:

Fred Lening, Yardley, Pa., and Ted Hoffman, Jr., Plymouth Meeting, Pa., 14,952, $1,150. Norm Meyers, Los Angeles, Dick Agee, San Jose, Calif., 14,926, $1,050.

Lewis Ray and Jerry McCoy, Fort Worth, 14,464, $850. Don McCune, Munster, Ind., and Gene Rhoda, Valparaiso, Ind., 14,356, $850.

Ken Matsuda and George McDonald, Denver, 14,163, $750.

Mac's Triumph, 4-1, Over Oshkosh '9'

Tom Konetzke Outduels Reamer In Opener of League Season

BY GEORGE MANCOWSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Lefty Tom Konetzke stopped Oshkosh on eight well-spaced hits as the Menasha Macs posted a 4-1 victory in their Fox River Valley League opener Sunday afternoon.

The Macs made only six hits off Dave Reamer but used daring baserunning and a 2-run single by Jerry Senzig to score four runs. Reamer struck out 14 and walked one.

Konetzke put down eight Oshkosh hitters on strikes, walked two and hit one batter. The hosts stranded nine baserunners; Menasha six.

With one out in the Mac second, Konetzke was safe on an error. Glib Schoen followed a single and after Dave Birling fanned, Bill Gamney walked.

With two strikes on Dick Frank, Konetzke stole home on the next pitch, Schoen taking third. On the very next throw to the plate, Schoen stole home. Frank eventually struck out to end the inning.

Although it had baserunners in every inning, Oshkosh didn't tally until the sixth. With two outs, Ron Harrison and Phil Mirkes put together successive doubles for a run. Mirkes was out trying to swipe third base to end the inning.

After their second inning pair, the Macs only moved one baserunner as far as second until the eighth.

Can YOU Get More Mileage And Power Just By Switching Gasolines?

Is there really a difference in gasolines? Do additives really make a difference? Can Skelly's patented additive, Keotane, make a difference in your gas mileage and power? These are things Skelly wanted car owners to decide for themselves when car owners in still another midwest city—Duluth, this time—were invited to try a sample of Keotane in whatever gasoline they were using.

1,785 Duluth car owners accepted Skelly's offer. Later, when Skelly asked these car owners, "What happened?" 362 car owners replied.

Had they all gotten more miles? More power? Of course not. That's not surprising. Cars differ, drivers differ, and so do driving conditions. Many had not continued to use Keotane. And, of course, many had not kept records. But ...

Of those who kept records and reported ...

- 48% claimed more mileage*
- 53% claimed more power*
- 45% were still using Skelly Gasoline!

(Mileage and power computations verified by Ernst & Ernst, a national firm of Certified Public Accountants.)

* Naturally, Skelly cannot guarantee you the same results. But you can get the same additive, Keotane, in Skelly Keotane Gasoline. It costs no more than other major brand premium gasolines without Keotane. Why not try 3 tankfuls and see what results you get in your car?

Only Skelly has Keotane.

Detroit Sweeps Pair From Indians; Chisox Take Lead

Micky Lolich, Hank Aguirre Hurl 7-Hitters for Tigers

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Micky Lolich and Hank Aguirre continue their perfect hitting, but unfortunately for the Cleveland Indians they pitch slightly better.

Lolich and Aguirre, a pair of Detroit left-handers, hit like Popeye and Olive Oyl would sing Romeo and Juliet. They showed it again Sunday by maintaining their .000 batting averages.

Each, however, pitched a seven-hitter as the Tigers whipped the Indians 3-1 and 4-1, ending their five-game winning streak and knocking them out of first place in the American League.

Lolich failed to hit in two trips to the plate in the 4-1 triumph after Aguirre had gone hitless in four appearances in the first game. The 23-year-old tunity slip away in the fourth. Dave May walked and stole second. Sorenson struck out, but Hantz walked. Ray Wolkowski fouled out and Stan Walters struck out.

John Burrows opened the fifth with the Foxes' only hit in the last eight innings. Caria sacrificed him to second. But the next two Foxes were unable to move the tying run around.

Burrows again demonstrated a strong throwing arm as he cut down the only two C-Sox who tried to steal. Caria picked a runner off second in the first inning on another near defensive maneuver.

Caria's strong arm was the key to the victory. He picked off two runners in the first inning and another in the fifth. He also struck out three batters in the first and fifth innings.

Decatur Trips Cedar Rapids, Takes Lead

Decatur bounced back into the top spot in the Midwest League with a 2-1 victory over Cedar Rapids Sunday.

The Commodores dropped a 11-2 verdict to Waterloo Saturday. Clinton took over the runner-up spot via a 2-0 win over the Foxes and trails the loop leaders by one game.

Wisconsin Rapids recorded a 2-6 win over Burlington while Quincy downed Waterloo, 5-1. Quad Cities nudged Dubuque, 4-3.

Jimmy Clark, Marshman Top '500' Qualifiers

Jimmy Clark, Marshman Top '500' Qualifiers

Scot Former First European to Lead Racers Since 1919

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Jimmy Clark of Scotland, world's fastest commuter, and American Bobby Marshman will lead four former winners across the starting line for the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race on Memorial Day.

In their slipper-shaped Lotus-Fords they topped a record-setting field in qualifications Saturday. Clark took the race day pole position at 158.8 miles per hour in a factory team car and Marshman won the second starting spot at 157.9 m.p.h. in a similar racer entered independently.

The Scot farmer hopped a plane to Mallory Park, England, and won the Guard's Trophy race there Sunday, setting a lap record on the winding course. Clark will compete in the Dutch Grand Prix next weekend before flying back to Indianapolis.

Dominated Circuit
Clark, who dominated the Grand Prix international circuit last year as no driver ever did before, will be the first European to lead the 500 start since Rene Thomas of France won the pole in 1919.

Jack Brabham of Australia and England, another former Grand Prix champion, was left still waiting to make his qualifying run when the second time trial session ended Sunday. He plans to try again Saturday after a round trip to Holland to practice for the Grand Prix.

Sixteen cars qualified on the 2 1/2-mile oval track Saturday and five made the line-up Sunday. The field so far has averaged 153.1 miles an hour. Parrell Jones, last year's winner of the $500,000 race, captured the pole position then at a record 151.1 average.

The 33 fastest cars in the trials will start the race. The Whitewater was canceled by wet grounds.

Vikes' Pepper Breaks MC Pole Vault Record

Bob Pepper, ace Lawrence College pole vaulter, smashed a 14-year old record in the Midwest Conference track and field meet in Cedar Rapids Saturday.

Pepper vaulted 13 feet, 4 inches to crack the mark of 12-3/4 set by Beloit's Donley in 1950.

Pepper accounted for five of the Vikes' nine points as they placed last in the meet.

Grinnell repeated as champion by scoring 65 points. Other point totals: Cornell, 35; Monmouth, 23; St. Olaf, 20; Beloit and Carleton, 18; Knox, 14; Coe, 13; Ripon, 10; and Lawrence, nine.

Three other records, in addition to Pepper's were set. Grinnell's Bruce Beards' ran the 440-yard dash in :48.1 to break the mark of :48.2 set by Beloit's Harvey Fied in 1951. Beards teamed with Ron Schachal, Jeri Langham and John Tepaske to set a mile relay mark of 3:20.1. Carleton's John Thiel put the shot 56 feet, 2 1/4 inches for another new record.

Other Lawrence points were scored by Jeal Ungrock, who finished third in the 120-yard high hurdles; and by Larry Wilson, who was fifth in the pole vault.

Viking Netters Finish Third In Conference

Cooper, Bertram Lose in Finals Of No. 2 Doubles

The three Wisconsin colleges placed among the top four in the Midwest Conference tennis meet staged in Cedar Rapids over the weekend.

Ripon dethroned Carleton, by scoring 30 points. Carleton tallied 14. Lawrence was third, with nine; and Beloit finished fourth, with six.

Lawrence's Dave Cooper reached the No. 3 singles finals, where he lost, 6-0, 1-6, to Ripon's Tim Wulling.

Cooper and John Bertram lost in the No. 2 doubles finals, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 to Ripon's Wulling and Jim Semrad.

In the semi-finals, Bertram and Cooper had beaten Knox' Steve Marsh and Ray Greenwald, 6-3, 6-2.

Carleton's Larry Hush and Jim Keenan won the No. 1 doubles title with a 6-3, 6-4 win over Ripon's Jack and Doug Ankerston. Larry Hush won the No. 1 singles title, with a 4-7, 6-2, 7-5 success over Jack Ankerston.

Doug Ankerston won the No. 2 singles title by beating Keenan.

Other team totals, after the first four: Grinnell and Knox, five each; Coe and St. Olaf, three each; Monmouth two; and Cornell, one.

River Falls, the Wisconsin State College Conference baseball champion, faces St. Norbert, an independent, in the District 14 playoffs of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics this week.

The playoffs, first to be held in the district, were announced Sunday by Dr. Eric Kitzman, Oshkosh State coach and district baseball committee chairman.

He said the first two games, of seven innings, will get underway Tuesday noon and a third game, if needed, will be played that night. The winner will enter the Area 4 playoff at Waverly, Iowa, May 29-30 with teams from Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri. The national meet is scheduled for St. Joseph, Mo., June 8-13.

River Falls, coached by Don Page, defeated Superior 11-3 and 11-4 Saturday to win the conference crown with a 7-1 record.

St. Norbert, coached by Mel Nicks, is 6-4.

Platteville fell out of title contention by splitting a twin bill with Wisconsin-Milwaukee, losing the first game 4-2 and taking the second 11-7.

In other final loop action Stout took a pair from La Crosse 4-1 and 3-2; Oshkosh, the 1963 champion, a sweep a double-header from Stevens Point 3-1 and 4-5, while Eau Claire at Whitewater was canceled by wet grounds.

Erdman Wins Class A Title

Ray McCrone of Appleton, had a 916 count.

Two other changes were recorded in the top 10 in Class A on the final weekend. Glen Runnoe, DePere, took fifth place with a 585 count on 790 scratch and 96 pins of handicap. Runnoe had games of 201, 169, 202 and 217.

Phil Frieberg, Fremont, placed 10th with a 571 total on 75 scratch and 96 pins of handicap. Frieberg rolled 223, 190, 190 and 172.

Into Second Place
In men's Class B, Ted Birling, Menasha, went into second place with a 885 count. Birling posted 773 scratch on games of 209, 189, 214 and 161 and carried 112 pins handicap for the four games.

No changes were recorded in the women's Class A section over the weekend while a pair of changes were posted in women's Class B.

Donna LeNoble, Appleton, went into fifth place with a 752

Northland and Rich's Score Softball Wins

KAUKAUNA — One-sided victories featured play in the City Softball League Friday night as Badger Northland whipped Giddings and Lewis, 15-0, and Rich's Bar downed Rexall Drug, 20-5.

Both games were limited to five innings because of the scores. Giddings and Lewis managed only one hit off Marcel Lamers as he struck out nine men. Badger managed 10 hits, but nine walks and loose play aided the winning cause. Dick Andrea tripled for the winners.

Rich's was aided by 15 walks, Phelan Fernal was the winning hurler, and Harold Arnoldussen was charged with the loss.

Lawrence Golf Team Fifth

Hedin, Schulenburg Both Card 149s In MC Meet

Lawrence College placed fifth in the Midwest Conference golf meet played over the weekend in Cedar Rapids.

Knox carded 584 strokes to repeat as champion. Other team totals were: Grinnell, 596; Beloit, 605; Carleton, 611; Lawrence, 619; Ripon and St. Olaf, 621 each; Cornell, 629; Coe, 633; and Monmouth, 640.

Tom Hedin and Eric Schulenburg paced the Vikes with 2-day totals of 149 to tie for 11th place among individuals. Hedin shot a 77 and a 72, while Schulenburg had 78 and 73.

Other Vike totals that counted in the final standings were Harley Holt, 155 (79-76) and Gus Murphy, (86-90) Lawrence lost a chance to finish at least one notch higher in the team standings when one of its golfers was disqualified for a penalty—and this cost the Vikes at least 11 strokes.

Knox' Pete Boynton won the medal with a 141. Grinnell's Dave Sellergren and Knox' Larry Hund were next with 143 and 144, respectively.

Bayer, Hebert Lead Golf Test

George, Lionel Post 138s at Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A couple of veterans who haven't been in the winner's circle lately broke ahead of the pack today for the final 36 holes of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament.

Husky George Bayer, who last won a tournament in March 1960, and Lionel Hebert, whose last victory was two years ago, led at the half-way point with 36 hole totals of six-under-par 138. Both posted 70-68—138 cards during the first two rounds.

Rain and lightning spoiled the first two starts Thursday and Friday. The first round wasn't played until Saturday, necessitating a 36-hole windup today.

Johnny Potts and Mike Souchak were just one stroke behind the leaders at 139. Two strokes back were Bob Verwey and Jack McGowan. Favorite Arnold Palmer was deadlocked with four others at 141.

The Hebert family had a share of the lead after both the first and second rounds. Bayer fired a 68 Saturday to share the lead with five others but slipped to a 74 Sunday.

Sunday was a bad day for the first round leaders. Souchak zoomed to a 71, Terry Dill to a 73. Hebert and Jay Fleming to a 74, Ernie Vossler to a 75 and Cotton Dunn to a 76.

Mickey Wright Captures Fourth Crown of Year

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—As Marlene Hagge said, "It's getting a bit monotonous saying congratulations to Mickey."

Mickey Wright, 29, had just won her 56th golf tournament as a professional and her fourth of this year, the Muskogee Women's Open, ending Sunday with a 213 total, three over par.

She received a $1,250 check for first place for the second straight year here, then headed for the Dallas Open, on what she called "a fun course."

Marlene Hagge nosed out Betsy Rawls for second, closing fast with a par 70, the second best round during the 54-hole tourney. Miss Rawls saw her chance to tie for second died with a missed putt on the final hole.

Russ Torgeson hit 39. Quella Foods took over the team lead with 55 points, Coffey Motors had 53. The league is operating with 20 teams.

Special prize winners were Don Peeters, Francis Heesakker and Dan Wildenberg.

Bob Derus Tops Twilight League

KAUKAUNA—Bob Derus fired a 1-over par 36 to pace the opening round of action in the Fox Valley Golf Club Twilight League.

Parents' World

Early Rising Boys Angry at Frantic Mother or Hungry

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: My two kids three and five, get up at the crack of dawn each day and ransack the house, eating everything they can lay their hands on. By the time I get up, they're too full for a regular breakfast and the whole house has cracker crumbs over it and needs to be cleaned. I've tried everything I can think of to stop them. MRS. M.H.

Dr. Jones: They're probably either hungry or else angry with you for some other reason. Work on the assumption that they're hungry, first. It's possible that a week or two of special treatment will solve this problem completely. Give them more protein food for supper. Give them a snack before they get into bed. And leave an extra snack for each near their beds in case they wake during the night. Ask them to wake you in the morning so you can make them their favorite breakfast. If they get you out of bed ahead of time, though, tell them you'll insist they eat a full portion of everything they ask for. It will probably work out that they'll be willing to wait for a later breakfast in order to regain their right to eat as much as they want—after all, they won't be starving while they're waiting for you to wake up.

If their problem is some desire to get back at you for whatever you're doing to hurt them, this treatment will only help a little. You'll need to stop whatever you're doing to make them angry. The book whose name I'm sending you should help you figure out what that is and how to stop it.

Dear Dr. Jones: My son, a high school senior, didn't get accepted to the college he really wanted to attend. But his best friend did. There's no difference between their grades or other achievements, and we can not understand it. Also, we do not know how to console our son. He practically hates the thought of going to the school that did accept him. Mr. and Mrs. E.B.

The college probably wanted only one student with the qualifications your son and his friend both represent. It's hard luck, but that's life. Your son will probably accept it more quickly if you stop trying to console him. Give him a week to figure out for himself how to stop feeling bitter or ashamed at the thought of attending the college that accepted him. If he can't get his feelings under control, ask him to decline the acceptance and to plan to work for a year before reapplying.

Communist Drive In Laos Held Threat To Southeast Asia

Neutralist Command Post Under Pathet Lao Shelling

BY ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A hull in fighting was reported today in the Communist-threatened Muang Phang area, on the western edge of the Plaine des Jarres 100 miles northeast of Vientiane.

Pilots returning to Vientiane said Muang Phang airstrip had been shelled and there had been some ground fighting Sunday.

The Communist drive against the neutralist army of Premier Souvanna Phouma stirred concern in Washington that a new Southeast Asian crisis was developing.

Planes Carry Supplies

The neutralist troop commander, Gen. Kong Le, was reported in the Muang Phang area but he had left his headquarters site in the city. Sources said he had moved south of his former command post.

Planes landed on the damaged but still usable Muang Phang airstrip to deliver rice and medical supplies to the neutralists.

The pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops advanced to within 500 yards of Muang Phang during fighting Sunday.

The International Control Commission hastily removed its observer team from the plain. An Indian member said they might not have made it if communist helicopters had arrived 15 minutes later.

Charges Pact Broken

Premier Souvanna Phouma called the fighting a large-scale attack by the Communists on neutralist positions.

Souvanna Phouma sent a cable to his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, the leader of the Pathet Lao, accusing him of "flagrant violations of the Geneva accords" of 1953 that neutralized Laos.

The Pathet Lao controls an estimated two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles of mostly mountainous jungles. Their forces have pushed into the Plaine des Jarres several times in the past year and Kong Le and his neutralist army have been forced to retreat.

Last week the Pathet Lao captured the right-wing army base at Tha Thom, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane. It had been held jointly by two right-wing battalions and a neutralist company.

Western military sources in Vientiane said a disident movement which broke out among neutralist ranks during the past week may have helped prompt the Pathet Lao attacks on the neutralists in the Plaine des Jarres. The Pathet Lao is exploiting this disident in propaganda broadcasts.

Dissatisfaction among neutralist officers stemmed from the recent merger of the right-wing and neutralist armies after the right-wing army coup in Vientiane.

The neutrality policy set up at Geneva has never worked. Laos has a coalition government headed by Souvanna, but he has held no authority over the areas held by the Pathet Lao.

U.S. Expresses Alarm to Reds, Allies in Orient

Rusk Sees Johnson, Ambassadors of Russia, Britain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told the Soviet Union, Britain and its Asian allies that a breakdown in Laos' shaky neutrality could bring on a new Southeast Asian crisis.

Johnson administration leaders are deeply disturbed about new offensive action by Communist forces in the Plaine des Jarres region of Laos. The Pathet Lao attacks, developing Sunday, brought positions held by neutralist troops under heavy fire.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who conferred with President Johnson during the day, held an unusual series of meetings with ambassadors of the Soviet Union, Britain and other countries that have a direct interest in the situation.

Strife May Broaden

Rusk's purpose was to get support in Moscow, London and elsewhere for efforts to put an end to the Communist drive, and save the Geneva agreement which neutralized Laos and stopped the use of Laotian territory for supplying Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Some officials say privately that if the efforts to preserve the neutrality of Laos are unsuccessful then the conflict in that country will almost inevitably become a part of the anti-communist war which the United States is fighting.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirteen persons lost their lives on Wisconsin highways during the weekend boosting the state's traffic toll to 344, compared with 256 on this date a year ago.

Dana Howe, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Howe of La Crosse, died Sunday of injuries sustained Saturday when struck by a car near her home. Howe is an engineer at WKBT-TV in La Crosse.

John L. Farrow, 37, of Superior was killed Sunday evening when a car left Douglas County trunk E about a mile south of Superior.

William Wentz, 60, of Milwaukee, was killed late Sunday night when he was struck by a car as he crossed a street on the city's South Side.

Gary Wald, 24, of rural Elk Mound was killed Sunday when his car crashed on County Trunk E 10 miles west of Eau Claire.

Burns to Death

Glenn Telchuk, 16, of Chicago burned to death Sunday when the car in which he was riding and a milk truck collided on Highway 45 and Kenosha County Trunk C. The driver and two other passengers in the car are hospitalized.

Joseph La Rock, 58, of Kesheena died Saturday night when his car and a truck collided on Shawano County Trunk HH near the Shawano County line.

Other Fatalities

Richard D. McGregor, 18, of Bancroft was killed Saturday when a car driven by his brother, Alfred, 18, crashed at a curve on Adams County Trunk

Bends Blamed for Skin Diver's Death

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A MEMBER of the Aqua Rays Skin Diving Club of Chicago died of an apparent attack of the bends Sunday while souvenir hunting at the wreckage of the Sunken Prince Willem V three miles off Milwaukee harbor.

Bengt Agner, about 45, of Evergreen Park, Ill., was found "floating around" by fellow divers near the wreck of the Dutch motor ship, which sank in 40 feet of water after a collision in 1954.

Bengt was taken ashore by the USS Portage, a naval training ship. He was pronounced dead on arrival at County Emergency Hospital.

Protestants Front 41 States Join In Demonstration

WASHINGTON (AP)—

Clergymen and church laymen from 41 states and the District of Columbia gathered on Capitol Hill today for a "silent, prayerful procession" and personal pleas to senators for prompt passage of the civil rights bill.

The demonstration came as the Senate began its 11th week of debate on the measure, stalled by Southern oratory.

The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of the Episcopal Washington Cathedral, led a prayer service before the march began at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, two blocks east of the Capitol.

Great Moral Issue

Some 200 persons, representing states from as far away as Alaska, took part in the demonstration, sponsored by the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches.

Sayre, in the brief service, said civil rights, and particularly school segregation, was one of the most important moral issues of our time.

Then, the group held an hour-long briefing session to plan the day. They also heard from staff assistants to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., floor leaders for the civil rights bill.

John Stewart, Humphrey's legislative assistant, said he felt the civil rights bill "is in the home stretch." He urged the group to press for a debate limitation, which he felt must be imposed in the next two or three weeks.

Steve Horn, legislative assistant to Kuchel, said he felt "a formula for an acceptable bill is at hand."

Next, the group began its march on the Capitol.

Honorary Post for French Reds' Ex-Boss

PARIS (AP)—Maurice Thorez, boss of the French Communist party for 34 years, has resigned as secretary-general and moved up to the honorary post of president.

Barbara A. Spruill, widow of U.S. Army Capt. James P. Spruill, and their children, Mark, 7, and Elizabeth, 4, sit outside the Spruill home Sunday at Suffern, N.Y. Mrs. Spruill, whose husband was killed in Viet Nam April 21, has made public portions of his letters to her. He wrote: 'We must stand strong and give heart to an embattled and confused people. This cannot be done if America loses heart.' In a letter to the editor of the New York Herald Tribune, Mrs. Spruill expressed the hope that 'all Americans would have an opportunity to read them.' 3 Drown in Boat Tragedy

WATERFORD, Wis. (AP)—

Three persons, including two children, drowned and four others were rescued Sunday evening when a 12-foot boat overturned in the Fox River about two miles north of this Racine County community.

The bodies of Joseph Kompel, 40, Anthony Velez, 6, and Robert Rohades Jr., 9 months old, all of Chicago, were recovered in about six feet of water.

Kompel's wife, Ruby, 44; Robert Rohades, 21, and his wife, Rosella, 24, parents of the dead children; and Robert L. Cass of Chicago were rescued.

The sheriff's office said that the group had spent the weekend at Kompel's cottage on an island in the river near Buena Park, a subdivision near Waterford.

They were using the small boat, powered by an outboard motor, to get from the island to their car on shore. The craft began to take water at the bow and, authorities said, overturned when one person attempted to move closer to the stern.

Deputies said there were three unused life preservers in plastic bags in the boat.

Power was being used by the boat.

The school board invoked an old rule under which news photographers are banned from taking pictures in any room where classes are in session.

A spokesman said the purpose was to avoid retaliation against any pupil who ignored the boycott.

BY GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Sen. Daniel B. Brewster has rested his campaign to block Gov. George C. Wallace in Maryland's Democratic presidential primary Tuesday after touring a section of Baltimore with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the late president.

Wallace, governor of Alabama, makes his last personal appearance tonight at a rally in a Baltimore suburb.

A crowd of about 3,000 turned out for the street parade to greet Kennedy and Brewster in South Baltimore, an area of varied ethnic groups, largely Italian and Polish.

Kennedy compared the neighborhood to South Boston, and said: "The Irish and the Poles came to this country looking for a better life, the Democratic party gave it to them."

Recalls Wallace

He recalled his brother's visits to Baltimore in the 1900 presidential campaign.

"You in South Baltimore gave him your help and your support," he said. "The man who is running against Danny Brewster is against everything the president lived for and worked for."

Kennedy was received with warmth and friendliness, but sentiment for Wallace was evident.

There were signs: "Stand up for America—vote for Wallace" and "Senator Kennedy—why are you in favor of putting a white man in jail for cheating businessmen at the bar-restaurant on the corner?"

Kennedy was the 10th Demo-

Lodge Backers in California May Give Support to Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leaders of the Draft Lodge Committee scheduled a news conference today amid speculation that they will support Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the California primary.

Paul Grindle, national campaign chairman for the committee to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination, was to make "an important statement" at the news conference.

Grindle declined on Sunday night to disclose the committee's intentions, saying only that the statement concerned the June 2 California primary.

Move Sets Precedent

Pope Seeks Closer Ties With Non-Christians

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI is creating a Vatican secretariat to work for closer relations between the Roman Catholic Church and non-Christian religions. It may bring religious leaders of East and West together on a regular basis for the first time in history.

The Roman Catholic ruler announced Sunday that he would create the Vatican agency soon to promote contacts with Buddhists, Hindus, Moslems, Jews and members of other faiths outside Christianity.

Paolo Cardinal Marella, 60, will head the new congregation. He is archbishop of St. Peter's and a former apostolic delegate to Australia and Japan.

Roman Catholic churchmen in different parts of the world have numerous contacts with clergymen from other religions. Representatives of non-Christian faiths are received at the Vatican during visits. But this will be the first concerted official Vatican effort to promote closer ties with such religions.

The Vatican already has a secretariat to promote unity with non-Catholic Christians. Pope Paul did not specify how the secretariat would work or what problems it would take up with non-Christian religions. But it was believed that regular visits, and perhaps even assignments, of non-Christian spokesmen to the headquarters of the Catholic Church were a strong possibility.

Vatican sources stressed that the secretariat, like the secretariat for Christian unity, would not strive for conversions.

Nikita Lashes at Arab Prejudices And Nationalism

CAIRO (AP)—Premier Khrushchev took an unscheduled breather from his grueling official program today but continued political talks with his host, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Khrushchev, 70, has let no opportunity pass to portray the Soviet Union as a friend and protector of the Arabs and other nonaligned people.

Khrushchev at Aswan gave a plainspoken rebuke to Arab leaders' nationalist and racial prejudices on which the Russians say the Red Chinese are playing for anti-Soviet ends.

Arab leaders were believed somewhat taken aback by Khrushchev's sharp lecture on the narrowness of the doctrine of Arab unity, delivered in an impromptu speech Saturday night.

Argentina Gets U.S. Military Aid

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Reports circulated today that the United States will pump $15 million military aid into Argentina against the prospect that neighboring Chile will elect a Communist-backed government in September.

An informed U.S. source said the United States is making Argentina the chief beneficiary of military aid in Latin America as the "best bet for strengthening the hemispheric defense system against the threat of communism."

Man-Made Lake At Black Creek to Open for Summer

6-Acre Facility Has Been Under Construction Since Last Fall

BY PAT DUFFY

BLACK CREEK — A new six-acre lake under construction since last fall, will open in this northern Outagamie County community soon for the summer season.

The lake, owned by Black Creek Homecoming Corp., is adjacent to the village park in a former swamp area. It is part of a recreation facility which in time will include a wide lake refuge.

The lake movement was sparked by Gordon Bubak, Appleton, who spoke to the Black Creek Advancement Association last year about the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission. Last fall Murphy Construction Co., Black Creek, along with survey assistance from the Appleton office of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) started construction. Working closely together were Vernon Geiger of the SCS office and Lee Stephens, project manager for the Black Creek firm. Robert Turkow was general chairman for the advancement association.

Various community organizations have started fund raising projects designed to improve the facilities. The women plan to purchase playground equipment with their funds and booster buttons are being sold to defray existing expenses.

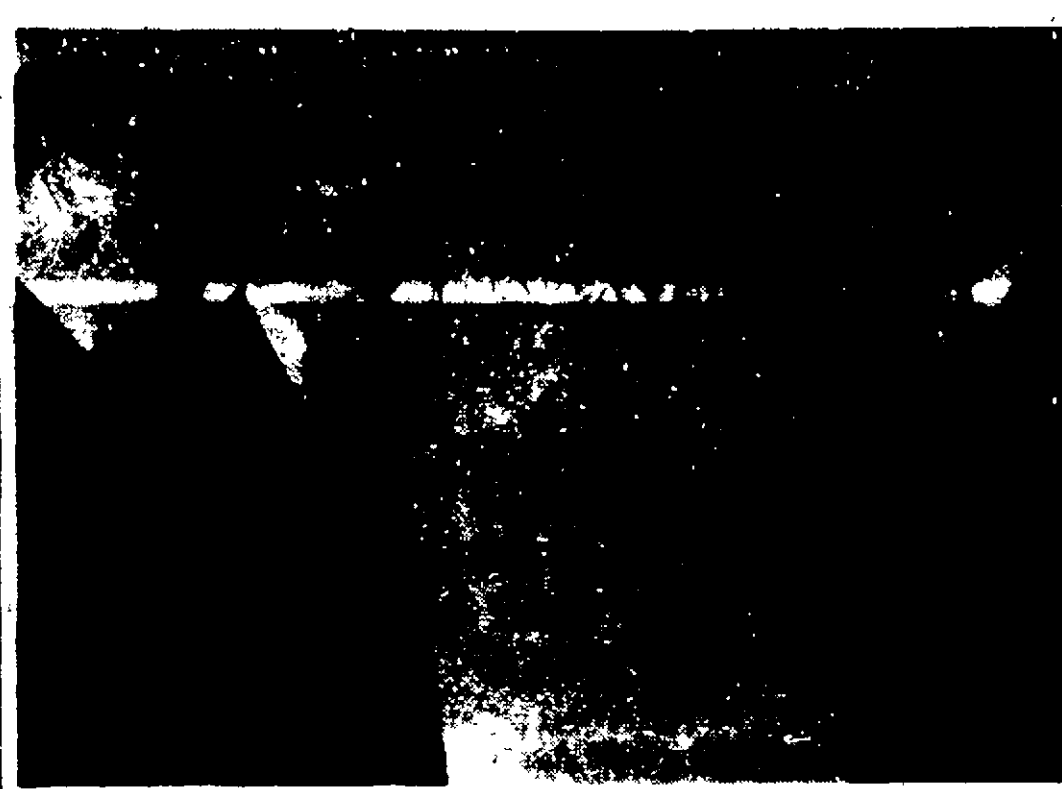

Plans include a bath house designed with a flat roof to be used as a stage. A concession stand also will be constructed. When the present lake is paid for by the corporation, it will be turned over to the village as a community project. Major funds are expected to be netted from the village's annual summer homecoming celebration at the park.

The lake will provide swimming facilities for the Fox River Valley area which the corporation hopes to attract. Abutting the north flank of the park will be a wide sandy beach. Camping facilities are under study.

The first 90 feet of the lake will only be two feet deep. The next 50 will be three and one-half feet deep. After that the lake will slope to six feet and taper off to the final depth of 14 feet. Each section will be marked.

Last fall a well was dug in the park. Since Feb. 6 the well has been pumping water into the lake to add to natural waters. The lake was dug with cooperation from the weatherman. It was one of the driest summer and fall seasons ever recorded for this area of the nation in 50 years. Despite it bulldozers used in the digging had to push each other from the

She will serve seven counties in the president's capacity. They are Calumet, Door, Outagamie, Winnebago, Brown, Manitowish, Waupaca and Sheboygan.

Other officers elected were William Hammell, Green Bay, vice-president, and Robert Fingert, Sheboygan, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Greim will attend the national convention, May 21-24 in Indianapolis.

Bear Creek PTA Unit Cancels May Meeting

BEAR CREEK — "Moments To Remember" was the theme of the senior tea in the gymnasium Wednesday afternoon to honor the 17 high school seniors and their mothers.

The event was sponsored by the junior FHA girls.

New officers were installed by outgoing president Kathleen McClone. Jeannie Hoffmann is president; Betty Zimmerman, vice president; Sue McClone, secretary; Barbara Hennickson, treasurer; Jane Suprise, reporter; Bonnie Brauer, historian; Patty Flanagan, song leader, and Alice Klegin, parliamentarian.

Barbara Schertz, left, is salutatorian of Bear Creek High School senior class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schertz, route 1, Bear Creek. Mary Suprise will be valedictorian. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Suprise, Bear Creek.

Case Study of Industry Slated for Paper Men

Top Executives Taking Part in Program
At Institute June 18-20; First of Its Type

NEENAH — Many of the Wisconsin paper industry's top executives will take part in an unprecedented program at the Institute of Paper Chemistry on paper manufacturing for college educators June 18-20.

The project is entitled "Case Study of an Industry." It is sponsored by the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service, Neenah, an association of 26 major state pulp and paper manufacturers, and consists of a three-day series of field trips, lectures and seminars staffed by industry officials.

Representative of 25 state colleges and universities have registered for the study.

Special talks will be given by C. M. Green, president, Mosinee Paper Mills Co., Mosinee, the general chairman of the Information Service; Stanton W. Mead, president, Consolidated Papers Inc., Wisconsin Rapids; Charles L. Dostal, president, Thimney Pulp and Paper Co., Kaukauna; and Dean Roy Whitney, Kaukauna, and Dean Roy Whitney, Kaukauna, and Dean Roy Whitney, Kaukauna.

Moderators for a series of panel discussions on various subject areas are Guy E. McCoslin, chairman of the board, Thimney Pulp and Paper Co., Kaukauna; Harry C. Moore, president, Beloit Corp., Beloit; J. J. Archer, vice president, Chairman Paper Products Co., Green Bay, and John E. Speld ing, vice president, Nekosa-Edwards Paper Co., Port Edwards. Other Appleton and Neenah-Menasha participants include Arnold Grummer of the Institute staff; Arthur Van Vliet, Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers Research League, Appleton; Richard Billings, Kimberly-Clark Corporation; Carl R. Geisler, vice president, administrative services, Marathon Division of American Can Co.; G. K. Crowell, executive vice president, Kimberly-Clark Corp.; Arthur Hedlund, vice president and treasurer, Bergstrom Paper Co.; Donald A. Snyder, vice president and general manager, Marathon Division of American Can Co.; Fred Leach, president, Universal Paper Corp.; Paul Truttschel, vice president, sales, Appleton Coated Paper Co.; and Foster Doane, vice president, manufacturing, Bergstrom Paper Co.

More than a score of paper officials are on the program. Only out-of-state executive participating is Newell Rumpf, president, Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, who has been closely identified with Wisconsin paper industry expansion. He will appear on a financial panel scheduled for the Mead Inn, Wisconsin Rapids, at 1 p.m., June 19.

This is believed to be the first such project in the country—at least on an industry-wide basis. The industry hopes to be able to offer it to state schools on a yearly basis hereafter.

NORAD General To Visit Lawrence

College AFROTC 'Dining-In'
Tuesday Night at Conway Hotel

Brig. Gen. William D. Greenfield, commanding officer of the Chicago Air Defense Sector, Truax Field, Madison, will be the speaker and guest of honor at the Lawrence AFROTC's annual dining-in at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Conway Hotel.

It will be the first official visit a general has made to the Lawrence AFROTC detachment. Several Appleton students will take part in the ceremonies. John Keckonen, 513 N. Bateman St., student corps commander, has been designated president of the mess while James McNamara, 1518 S. Walden Ave., is vice president.

Gen. Greenfield, a native of Dayton, Ohio, is a graduate of Miami University in Ohio, and has attended many Air Force service schools, among them the Spanish language school, the Air War College, Manpower Management training, command and staff.

He has held seven posts as commander including an Air Force mission to Venezuela; wing commands at O'Hare International Airport, and Presque Isle AFB, Maine; a divisional command in Europe; and second command at Truax Field, which he commands.

More than 22 million people in a 250,000-square mile area look to the Chicago NORAD Sector for aerospace defense. Among the key cities protected are Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Des Moines, Madison, Springfield, Peoria, Terre Haute, Memphis and Little Rock.

Arps Estate To Finance Scholarship

Late Circuit Judge
Wills Half His Funds
To Calumet Youth

CHILTON — The estate of the late Judge H. F. Arps has set up scholarships for Calumet County youth to attend the University of Wisconsin or any of its extensions.

Half the estate was set up in trust for the scholarships and the other half goes to Calumet Memorial Hospital.

As stipulated in the will of the late circuit judge, the money will be available five years after the death of his wife Elsie, 816 S. Madison St.

Other recipients of the estate are Helen Sontage, secretary to the late Judge Arps, $2,500; Mason Lodge 154 Chilton, Eastern Star and Wisconsin Masonic Home, Dousman, Wis., each $2,500; and $500 each to Luann Harff and Steven Humlikar, for which the Arpses were baptismal sponsors.

The trusts for scholarships, and the hospital were set up through the First Wisconsin Trust Co., Milwaukee.

The scholarship fund will be known as the Helmut F. Arps and Elsie N. Arps Scholarship fund and the hospital grant will be known as the Helmut F. Arps and Elsie N. Arps Memorial Fund.

Money for the scholarships will be turned over to the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents for grants to Calumet County youths desiring higher education at the University or its extensions.

Since the war, he has been in Venezuela and in Rabat, Morocco. He holds many decorations, among them the French Croix de Guerre avec Palme, the Belgian Croix de Guerre avec Palme, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star and the Air Medal with seven Oak Leaf Clusters. He is rated a Command Pilot.

The job of defending much of America's Midwest industrial heartland falls to the Direction Center of the Chicago North American Air Defense Command Sector at Truax Field, which he commands.

More than 22 million people in a 250,000-square mile area look to the Chicago NORAD Sector for aerospace defense. Among the key cities protected are Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Des Moines, Madison, Springfield, Peoria, Terre Haute, Memphis and Little Rock.

Clintonville Moose Lodge Honors Member
With Dinner Sunday

CLINTONVILLE — Marvin Christopherson was honored at a dinner Sunday at the Moose lodge and was presented the Fellowship Degree from Mooseheart, the second degree of merit. He was presented the fellowship on behalf of Clintonville.

Loyal Order of Moose, Lodge No. 1502, by Governor Gerald Esler.

Guests from the Fifth District of the Moose attended. A social hour followed the dinner and presentation ceremony.

Clintonville Church Sets Stewardship Week

CLINTONVILLE — The official board of the First Methodist church has proclaimed the week of May 17-24 as Stewardship Week.

During this period members of the board of stewards, under the leadership of Robert Moreland, visitation chairman, will be making calls in the homes of congregation members to explain the program of the church, its budget and to secure pledges for financial support. The church fiscal year begins June 1.

Petitioners in Residential Area Seek to Block Building Project

WAUPACA — Petitioners seeking to block construction of a dairy bar at Badger and Division streets will have an opportunity to express their views on the project at a special city planning board meeting and public hearing at 8:30 p.m. today.

At a special meeting Friday night Mayor Lloyd Matheson announced the public hearing and asked those present to withhold comment on the proposal until then.

Some 175 persons have endorsed petitions asking that a 132-foot square lot at the intersection be rezoned from commercial to residential. The change would prevent construction of a dairy bar at the site.

The lot was purchased by Errol McPeak, who has applied for a building permit to construct a dairy bar on the corner lot.

Refuse Permit Mayor Matheson Friday claimed he ordered Otto Kell, building inspector, to refuse to issue the permit until the petitions are discussed and all parties have had a chance to be heard.

He said McPeak will attend the hearing Monday night.

McPeak said Saturday he may not attend the board meeting, stating his building plans meet specifications of building in a commercial zone.

McPeak would not disclose the proposed use of the building, other than it will be a dairy bar. He said he needs the building permit before he can complete negotiations with the parent firm of the business he plans to install.

No Regulations Ald. Charles Landis Friday asked if the city has regulations specifying what types of business can be constructed in a commercial zone. He was told the regulations concern only the type of construction.

A prepared statement presented by residents said they "abhor the thought of a dairy or hamburger stand or any other similar type business right in our neighborhood with the resultant noise and crowding."

Mayor Matheson said the area was given a commercial designation April 3, 1957. Mrs. Kenneth Youngson, a residential spokesman, said she and her husband bought their home when that area of Badger Street was zoned residential.

Mrs. Youngson asked how it could have been changed from residential to commercial and Mayor Matheson said public hearings were held before it was rezoned.

Worked Five Years Mayor Matheson said the council also worked five years on the zoning ordinance before it was adopted in 1957. He said the local newspaper has dates when the ordinance was published for the public hearing.

Hiram Krebs, city engineer, told the council the property fronting on Badger Street in the disputed area is zoned commercial from the inside of the sidewalk to a point 225 feet south which indicates some of the homes in the area are located in a commercial zone.

Waupaca Sabin Clinics Draw Large Crowds

WAUPACA — Between 21,000 and 22,000 people in Waupaca County took advantage of the oral Sabin polio vaccine Sunday when Types II and III were administered at seven centers. Dr. Lloyd Maasch, Weyauwega, Sabin chairman said.

With a county population of 35,000, Dr. Maasch said most of the residents in the county have been immunized by taking both Type I at the first centers and the other two types Sunday.

The county medical society, which sponsored the clinics said more than 90 per cent of the residents have taken advantage of the program. Many of those attending centers in adjoining counties when the oral vaccine centers were sponsored there.

At Doctors' Offices Others who did not take the vaccine, Dr. Maasch explained, will be able to receive Types II and III this week at the office of their family physicians. They also will be able to take Type I at their doctor's office at a later date.

Dr. Maasch said the vaccine thawed Sunday at the centers can be kept only one week. Most of the doctors in the county, however, have access to both types.

Clintonville again topped attendance with about 4,200 taking the vaccine. New London, which was host to Outagamie County centers as well as the Waupaca centers, had 1,600 at Sunday's center.

Other Centers Approximate attendance at the other centers in the county were 3,000 at Weyauwega, 4,200 at Waupaca, 2,000 at Jola and Marion and 2,200 at Manawa.

Attendance patterns were about the same all over the county with a big group going through during the opening two hours and attendance slackening off into the afternoon.

Dr. Maasch said those attending both centers are believed to have a lifetime immunity. He suggested, however, babies from eight weeks to one year old should have a booster at some later date.

The county chairman commended all those who volunteered their time and effort to contribute to the success of the program.

Bonduel Board Drops Zoning Proposal, Pool Building Plans

BONDUEL — The Bonduel Village Board has dropped a proposal to rezone a downtown section of Bonduel from business to industrial and tabled a proposal to build a swimming pool.

Purpose of the rezoning was to accommodate plans of a meat manufacturer to purchase the LaBach's garage property, but the manufacturer has indicated that he was no longer interested in the plan.

The village board also tabled for study at a later date, a proposal to construct a lake northeast side of the village.

Brillion Lions Observe Anniversary at Dinner

BRILLION—Charter members of the Brillion Lions Club were honored at the group's 25th anniversary celebration Saturday evening.

Feted were Frank Kleber, Arthur Neumeyer, Oliver C. Wardell and Edgar Mueller at a dinner meeting at Branch River Country Club for members and their wives.

Also honored at the event was Edward S. Kiek, a local club member, who was elected International Director at the Lions convention in Miami Beach in 1963. Kiek was asked for having attained the highest office ever held by a Brillion member.

Two past Lions International presidents, Frank V. Birch and Clarence L. Sturm, were among the guests.

The Brillion club has been cited by the Lions International as being "a model small town club". The club has a growing membership with better than average attendance at meetings. It has played a major part in community events, having petitioned for better mail service and arranging to have U.S. 16 paved two years ahead of schedule.

Clintonville FHA Chapter Names Officers

CLINTONVILLE—Future Homemakers of America at the high school have elected Mary Haback as president for the next year. She will succeed Judy Mueller. Jennifer Kautz was elected vice president and Darhl Rink secretary. Other officers will be elected in fall.

The chapter's picnic is planned for May 23 at Shawano Lake.

The FHA had a pizza party after school Friday, sponsored by the sophomore and junior members. An awards program followed with Madge Mack, Mary Haback and Elaine Oesterreich receiving the junior degree and Kathy Oesterreich receiving the chapter degree.

Awards for obtaining high points in FHA went to Donna Gruetzmacher, Mary Haback and Mary Schley. Miss Mueller received the Crisco award.

The Green Lake delegates will be Mary Haback, Mary Schley, Donna Sell and Madge Mack, who is a candidate for the office of state historian.

Mrs. Beverly Wruck is the FHA advisor.

Many Projects

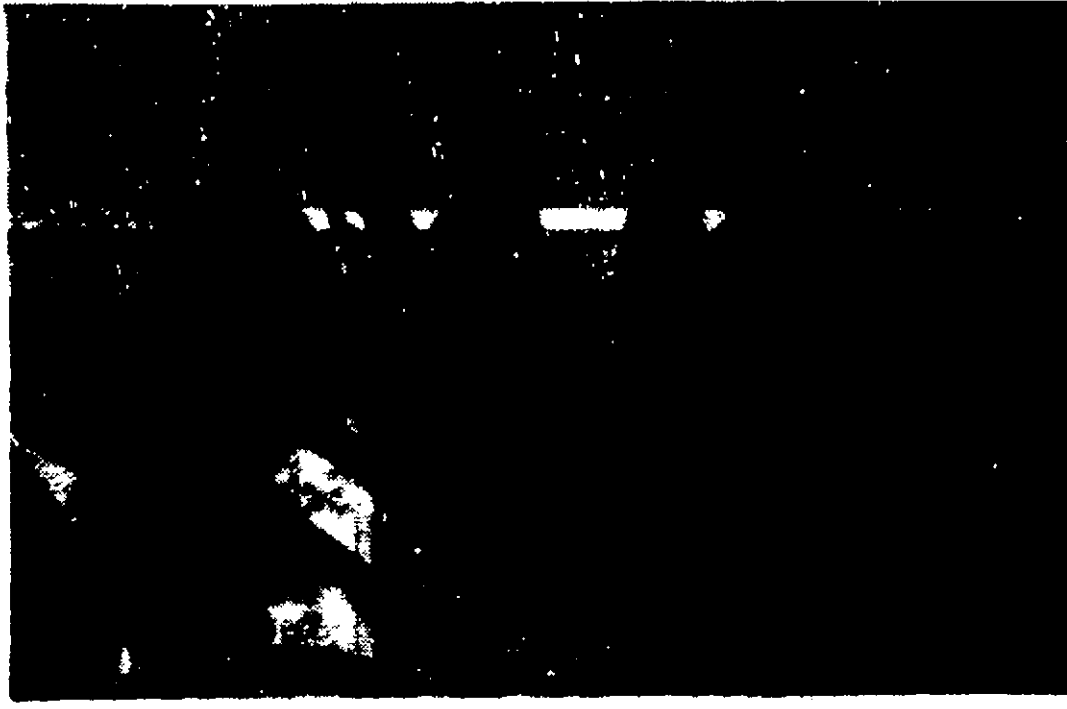

Projects the club has supported include Brillion's Golden Jubilee in 1955, the drive for a new high school auditorium in 1958, annual 4-H and PFA fairs in the 40s, the drive in 1944 to convert Brillion from a village to a city, raising money in 1947 for band uniforms and robes and new instruments for the school music department.

In 1950 the club raised $15,000 for a lighted athletic field and donated waste receptacles to the city. In 1960 the Lions, in conjunction with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsored the opening of Brillion's newly lighted and widened Main Street and placed flower boxes on light standards.

The club has continued its perennial projects—the Halloween party, Easter Egg Hunt and sending children to the blind camp each summer.

In recent years it has maintained an ice rink and raised funds to help send the high school band to the international convention at Miami Beach.

Anniversary committee members were Win Riemer, general chairman; Ralph Anderson, Oliver Wordell, Edgar Mueller, Don Schmelter, Dr. C. A. Walters, John Haun, Howard Holmke and Mel Koch.

5 Hurt in Two Auto Accidents

New Holstein Area Girls Hospitalized After Car Overturns

CHILTON—Five persons were injured in two separate accidents in Calumet County over the weekend.

A one-car mishap at 5:45 p.m. Sunday on County Trunk T two miles south of Hayton injured four passengers in a car driven by Shirley A. Bonlander, 20, route 1, New Holstein.

At Calumet Memorial Hospital for observation are Judy Koenen, 19, and Mary Ann Engel, 18, both of route 2, New Holstein. Treated and released were Shirley Stemper, 19, New Holstein, and Diane Wiesner, 22, Plymouth. All received head injuries.

Miss Bonlander told county police the car she was driving pulled off the road as she applied the brakes. The eastbound car was traveling east when it left the road and overturned.

Cars driven by Arnold D. Strauch, 37, 614 N. Lane St., Appleton, and Bonnie Jurek, 19, 632 Seventh St., Menasha, collided at 12:40 a.m. Friday on State 95 and 114, one mile west of Sherwood. Johanna Strauch, 35, suffered bruises and shock. She was not hospitalized.

Police said Strauch was headed west on State 55-114 when the Jurek auto backed into the highway from a driveway. Damage in both mishaps was estimated at more than $100.

Bear Creek FHA Has Tea, Installs Officers

BEAR CREEK—The last PTA meeting of the season, scheduled Tuesday evening at the Bear Creek High School gymnasium, has been cancelled because of the heavy schedule of school functions during the remainder of the month.

The next meeting will be in September.

Organize Boys Baseball Loop At Marion

MARION—Central Wisconsin Boys Baseball will have 11 teams playing in two leagues this summer, officials learned at an organizational meeting Wednesday.

The western division includes Marion, Manawa, Weyauwega, Waupaca, Bear Creek and Iola. Teams will play a home and home schedule Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning June 18.

Eastern division teams are Bonduel, Seymour, Keshena, Shiocton, and Black Creek. The latter two are new entries this season. A program similar to western division will begin June 23.

There will be no tournament but a grandchampionship play-off Aug. 1.

Western division will be National League and eastern, American League. Trophies will be awarded top division teams and grand championship team.

Hilbert Coach To Lead Summer Recreation Plan

HILBERT—John Stock, Hilbert High School coach and commercial teacher, will be in charge of the summer recreation program organized for the first time.

June 15 to Aug. 30 was the tentative period set. About 100 children have expressed interest in the program. Children throughout the Hilbert school district may attend.

Basketball, tennis, softball and badminton will be organized. Arrangements to include swimming, if a nearby pool may be used, will be made.

Donations have been pledged by the Volunteer Fire Department, American Legion Post and its auxiliary, the Hilbert Advancement Association and the high school athletic fund. The village will make up the balance of the cost expected at $1,000.

Little Wolf to Graduate 71

MANAWA—A total of 71 eighth graders will be graduated by six elementary schools in the Little Wolf District.

St. Mary Pupils Will Present Piano Recitals

Musical Students Earn Awards in National Auditions

Piano recitals today and Tuesday will culminate many months of work for piano pupils at St. Mary Catholic School.

In February students participated in diocesan auditions. Eileen Mauthe, Ellen Kennedy and Nancy Kennedy were chosen to play in an honor recital at Holy Family College, Manitowec.

On April 14, 23 pupils in the piano department took part in auditions sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. The National Members of the National Federation of Student Musicians were required to play 16 pieces for the judges.

James Hendricks of Xavier High School and Barbara Milhaupt were awarded special plus for five-year period as National Members. Their pictures will appear in the 1964 Guild Yearbook.

Eileen Mauthe and Sarah O'Brien received awards as four-year National Members. Mary Kennedy and Sue Ann Gatz for three-year membership, and Eileen Kennedy, Maureen Kennedy, Mary Hauch, Bonnie Balliet and Kathie McGinnis were each honored with a two-year award. Beginning their first year as National Members were Susan Hendricks and Nancy Kennedy.

Michael Groh of St. Joseph School and Laura Balliet earned state membership.

District memberships were received by Mary Clare Groh, student at St. Joseph School, as well as by Patricia Goodyear, Amy Coenen, Michelle Toal, Eileen Evans, Steve Gillen William Martin and Diane DeDecker of St. Mary's.

Marcie Jacobec also entered two original piano pieces in a composition contest sponsored by the Guild.

Barbara Milhaupt and Eileen Mauthe, eighth grade students, won the honor of competing in the State Talent contest sponsored by the Catholic War Veterans at Madison on May 23. They will play a duet, "Fiddle Faddle."

Organ Guild Annual Meeting Held in Appleton

Members of the Northeastern Wisconsin chapter of the American Guild of Organists met Sunday afternoon in All Saint's Episcopal Church to hear a recital by students of the chapter, and to conduct their annual business meeting.

The group heard music of Bach, Murrill and Mulet played by Lawrence Conservatory organists Kenneth Happe, Ripon; John Machell, Bethlehem, Pa.; John Hall, Eagle River; John Hebblethwaite, Libertyville, Ill.; preparatory student Paul Emmons, 1225 W. Winnebago; and Judith Kort, Wisconsin State College-Stevens Point.

Following the recital, the chapter adjourned to the church parlors for a pot-luck supper and business meeting. Re-elected to offices were Gladys Michelsen, 112½ E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, dean; Edith Rentner, 70 River Dr., sub-dean; and Clinton DeWitt, Oconto, treasurer. Elected to the vacant secretary's post was Mrs. David Harris, Ripon.

A major item of business was a discussion of the group's continuing program for choirmasters, organists and others interested in church music in this area. The guild has as its aim the promotion of high standards of church musicianship.

AVS Driver Training Program Is Expanded

Appleton Vocational and Adult School board has approved expansion of the summer driver education program to provide for more than 700 students.

A total of 543 students have enrolled in 27 groups, and 88 more were on the waiting list. Expansion of the program will take care of those on the waiting list and an additional 80 students if necessary, AVS Director Carl Bertram said.

Enrollment will far surpass last year's record of 468 high school students and adults in the program.

In other action, the board approved:—Payment of $18,335 for the dewatering system installed to halt the slippage problem on the hillside below the school. The four dewatering wells are draining about 135 gallons of water a day from the hillside.

Adult Schools Pick Delegates To Committee

Will Study Plan For Fox Cities Area Vocational Facility

The five Fox Cities vocational and adult school boards are appointing delegates to a joint committee to develop a proposal for an area vocational school. The committee, set up at a joint meeting of the boards last month, is to be made up of the school directors and one member from each board.

A meeting will be scheduled as soon as a recommendation on a joint school is received from C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education and the final board appointments are made, according to Appleton Vocational and Adult School Director Carl Bertram. Greiber spoke at the boards' joint meeting and urged them to proceed with area planning.

Delegates Appointed
Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education has appointed George Howden, board president, as its delegate to the planning committee, and R. W. Mahony Sr., vice president, as alternate. Howden was named temporary chairman of the committee until it convenes at the joint meeting.

Kilbuck board named Peter Ruys, vice president, as its delegate and Joseph Mazanetz as alternate. The Menasha board named Douglas Hyde, vice president, as its delegate, and will appoint an alternate later.

Neenah board has named Thomas Ryan as its delegate, and William Peterson as alternate.

Kaukauna board will select its delegate and alternate Tuesday.

Traffic Pattern Changes Are Recommended

Would Permit Parking Ramp Exit On Oneida Street

Recommendations affecting the downtown traffic pattern and permitting H. C. Prange Co. a N. Oneida Street opening in its parking ramp have been approved by the Appleton public safety committee.

Final action will be taken by the common council at its regular meeting Wednesday night.

It has been recommended that:

—"No parking" zones be created on both sides of Oneida from Lawrence streets to College Avenue.

—Parking be prohibited on the west side of N. Oneida Street between College Avenue and Washington Street.

—The right hand traffic lane between Lawrence Street and College Avenue for right turn and/or straight ahead traffic.

Considered Parking Ban
Originally, the committee considered eliminating parking on both sides of Oneida Street from Lawrence to Washington streets. There was some opposition to this from businesses along the route.

On another matter which has been in and out of committee for months, the public safety committee approved a revised plan for traffic flow for the Prange parking ramp, and asked the street-sanitation committee to review its position.

The proposal now calls for the closing of the ramp exit on Washington Street, construction of a new entrance on N. Oneida Street, and changing of the entrance on Appleton Street so it can be used as the exit.

City Planner Walter Rasmussen and Police Chief Earl O. Wolf have said the new plan will work.

Chamber Official Urges AVS to Take Federal Aid

Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, has urged the Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education "to take advantage of the funds that the federal government is going to make available to schools like yours."

Corbett wrote Appleton Vocational School Director Carl Bertram after attending the annual meeting of the National Chamber of Commerce, at which one program was devoted to vocational education and technical schools. Particular emphasis was placed on retraining, and the vocational schools of Wisconsin were used as an example, he said.

"I know that you are well aware of this situation, and you and your board are well aware of your opportunities. This is more a letter of applause and encouragement," Corbett wrote.

Appleton Vocational School has accepted federal aids for homemaking, agricultural and other programs and under the Vocational Education for National Defense Act for a number of years. Additional funds for vocational schools were made available through federal legislation passed last year.

FFA letter awards, presented by vocational agriculture instructor Victor Waworka, went to a total of 17 boys. Seniors receiving letters were Wayne Reese, John Lamers and Mike Lemke. Three juniors receiving their letters were Don Schmidt, Barry Young and Dennis Strack. Sophomores who were presented letters were Larry Rath, Wayne Young, Bill Tennie, Dick McCandless, Neal Schmitz, Roger Conradt and David Zschaechner. Freshmen were Francis Hooyman, Larry Petit, Jim Knott and Wayne Schmidt.

Receive Gold Bar
Girls receiving an award of a gold bar for earning 100 points for two consecutive years were Pam Tackman, a sophomore and Mary Johnson and Diane Schwandt, both seniors.

Two girls received special awards for earning their Junior Homemaker degree. They were Cindy Sheperdson and Barbara Gilbert, both sophomores. An FHA bracelet was presented to Kathy Kennedy for earning an "A" rating in the district demonstration contest. The awards were presented by Miss Joyce Thorson, FHA advisor.

Kathy Kennedy, the new FHA president, along with Jennie Johnson, Liz Singler and Diane Conradt, were named to attend the annual FHA convention at Green Lake June 2 to 4.

Other new officers are Linda Sykes, vice president; Ruth Fuschler, secretary; Jennie Winfield, reporter; Judy Gast, student council representative; Sandra Gehring, recreational tension, Manawa; Mrs. Martin leader, Mary Van Stratten, hus-torian, and Sandra Croell, parliamentarian.

mucky bottom of the lake. There are several natural springs in the area where the lake was formed.

The lake holds about 4½ million gallons of water. At this rate it would take 460 railroad tank cars with a capacity of 10,000 gallons each to fill it. If each car measured 20 feet long they would stretch over one and one-half miles.

About 500 Norway and white pine trees will be planted along the west shore of the lake. They will serve as a wind shelter and accommodate winter skating. Area 4-H clubs are expected to be called in on the planting.

The dikes are green with spring grass which was sown with seed along with the park earlier this year. Committees have been picked for the annual summer homecoming.

The community has seen a lot of soil juggling in the past year. The construction company hauled 5,000 loads of dirt from the site to various locations in town. Property owners paid only the cost of hauling. Even an old frog pond got buried. Another section was opened for future housing development because fill was added in the right places.

It took another 5,000 loads of sand to form the 12-inch deep sand beach and lake base. As one community leader expressed it, "We've got everything in Black Creek running toward the lake — even the fire hydrants."

If Budget Is Pinching, Extras Are Place to Reduce Spending

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: I'm tired of being called incompetent. Please tell me approximately how much I, as a wife, should be allowed out of a $800-a-month take-home pay, for the following items per week:

Food for husband, myself, and four children aged six, four, two and three months; maid, $11; cleaning which averages about $4 a week; household supplies; miscellaneous such as papers, drugs, liquor, gardeners, cigarettes, baby sitters, etc.

I say $50 a week can't always do it, as my husband likes steak once a week, martinis at night.

We rent for $140 a month and pay off a car, some furniture and probably too many other bills as we are just beginning to acquire possessions. The children eat many a hot dog, drink powdered milk. But it's all going somewhere.

Mrs. J. D. C., New Orleans

Dear Mrs. C.: I think you need a raise. However, even $800 a month goes fast in a family with four children. So see how you come out with an allowance of $75 a week instead of the $50 you're now getting. For instance:

Food, $39 (moderate cost scale); maid, $11; cleaning, $4; household supplies, $5; miscellaneous, $18. Total, $77.

Of course, if you literally must stay within a $50 weekly allowance in order to meet payments on car and furniture, insurance, savings, taxes, et al, then it's pretty obvious from the items you list where you could start cutting down. And I don't mean the food budget.

What you have to decide is whether you and your husband prefer the hassles over money along with the little luxuries in life, or whether you'd rather cut the grass yourselves, do your own baby sitting, skip the martinis, put the clothes in the washing machine instead of sending them out for cleaning, and get a good night's rest.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have a teen-age daughter who is a junior in high school. We live in an above-average neighborhood in the suburbs. My problem is what is a fair allotment of our budget for clothes for a teenager.

My husband makes about $25,000 a year. We are all adequately insured with a good insurance program and have a fair savings account, plus a good retirement program.

In another year, my daughter will be going to college, and for this reason I would like to get her acclimated on a fair clothing allotment. Any information you are able to give me will certainly be appreciated.

D. B., Chicago

Dear Mrs. B.: The simplest way to start figuring is on the basis of average. On your husband's income of $25,000, a normal 10 per cent or about $250 a month for clothing and upkeep for the family is basic. How much of that sum should be allotted to each member depends on the particular circumstances: your husband's needs in relation to his business, your own, and your daughter's.

Spending habits indicate that a high school girl requires from $300 to $350 to outfit herself in preparation for the school year. Of course there are replacements to be expected and emergency needs from time to time.

However, your income and financial stability justify a clothing allotment for the family above that of the average. I'd say you would not be out of line to allow your daughter $200 to $250 for year's entire clothing costs. Set the overall family allowance at $800.

You can expect an increase in your daughter's clothing cost when she goes to college, so be prepared for it. Shopping for her freshman year—before she actually gets there—will probably run about $400 to $450. Thereafter her expenses will largely be governed by life as it is led in that particular college.

'Store Signs' Word Game Ideal for Long Auto Trips

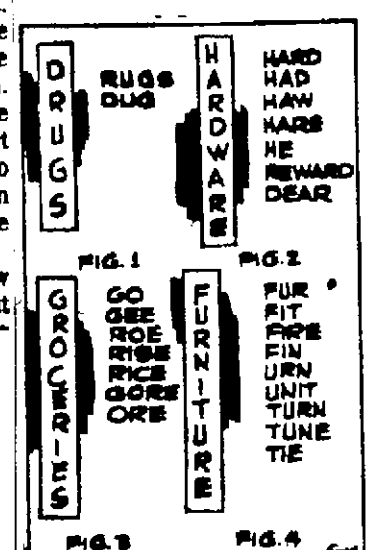

BY CAPPY DICK

'Store Signs' is a word game but it is played in different circumstances than usual. It's designed to be played while on a long automobile or bus trip. Get Mother and Dad to take part.

Everyone watches for store signs. The first person to see one says, "I have a store sign. It says 'Rugs.' I'll start the game with 'Rugs.'" The object of the game is for the players to see how many words they can form, using the letters in the store sign.

The next player must follow with his or her word made out of the letters in "Rugs." The game goes from player to player until one player fails to come up with a word. This player is given five demerits and a new game starts with a new store sign.

Form different words from signs.

Figures 1, 2, 3, and 4 show some of the store signs you are almost sure to see on a trip. Beside each of the signs are some of the words that can be formed of the letters in the sign.

When the players decide to stop playing the game, the person with the fewest demerits is the winner and should be rewarded with some kind of prize. (Copyright, 1964)

Today in History

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months. Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dynex®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

IDEAS ARE ALWAYS DIFFICULT TO SELL! TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

False. Some things sell better if they are tied in to ideas. For example: One store had a huge supply of moccasins that they couldn't sell. Then the clerks were taught to drop a pair in front of and say to the children who came in, "The kind real Indians wear." A fourth of the children got their mothers to buy them. It was the idea of being like an Indian, not the moccasins, that sold best. To learn more about the subject of practical persuasion, send for our common-sense booklet, "How To Persuade People." A copy of yours for 20 cents and a stamped, return envelope sent to this column, in care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Do men resent working women? Yes— No— Yes, employed women seem to feel they do. A study in Texas asked business and professional women to complete the sentence, "Men feel employed women..." Half again as many women responded with a negative finish as with a positive. The women said men felt they "were trying to horn in," "after their jobs," "invading a man's world," "neglecting their homes," and so on. Do men really feel this way, or are working women on the defensive? What do you say?

The Shy Child is Afraid! But what is he afraid of? Children rarely can be specific regarding their fears. The booklet, "The Shy Child," was developed to aid the parents of the timid child. It will help you recognize and alleviate your child's fears. Send 25 cents and your name and address to: "Let's Explore our Mind," in care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Solution or More Trouble?

Another plan has been suggested to try to end the long and nasty stalemate between India and Pakistan over control of the Kashmir. But even if the latest proposal is accepted by both countries—and at present this is only a remote possibility—there doesn't seem to be much chance that the fanatical hatreds and fears in both countries will disappear. The Kashmir is one source of conflict but it is not the real cause of all the trouble.

Mohammed Abdullah, a leader of the Moslem Kashmiris, was released from an Indian prison last month and reportedly favors joint control of the Kashmir—a condominium over most of the state. But there are many snags in the way to such an agreement.

Pakistan recently concurred with Red China about the border lines of territory claimed by both China and India and such border lines would have to be settled between India and Pakistan. The two nations have also become part of the current intra-party struggle of communism. When India received United States military aid after Red China attacked, Pakistan leaders insisted the equipment would really be used in the Kashmir and they began wooing the Red Chinese. In turn this meant more backing of India by the Soviet Union which now would frown upon any agreement between India and Pakistan. Reportedly Soviet authorities were even annoyed when India released Abdullah.

In India itself there are two widely split factions which have joined for the purpose of opposing any sensible agreement on the Kashmir. The far left is controlled or at least influenced by Russia. The far right is fanatically for Hinduism and India whatever happens.

The violent antagonisms and allegiances of those people tied both to nation and religion are often hard for Americans and Western Europeans to understand. The current events on Cyprus have indicated that majorities cannot be trusted to respect the rights of minorities when there is this fanaticism. Perhaps the best temporary solution in such areas is for the minority to rule with the restraint of the mass in the majority. Such is the case in the Kashmir at present where the ruling Maharajah is a Hindu but the great majority of the people are Moslem. This is the opposite of self-determinism but perhaps it is preferable.

Sheik Abdullah has said that the people of the Kashmir will not oppose any settlement that is satisfactory to both Pakistan and India if he approves. Such immense control in itself is a danger to anyone who does not agree.

Fix Up That Mail Box

It's that time of year again when everyone gets the fix-up, clean-up, paint-up bug.

Even the federal government gets into the act. May 18-23 has special significance for all rural dwellers with mail boxes at road side.

Patrons on rural routes are asked during this period to give special attention to that box on a post which daily either holds the paper, mail or at first of month a handful of unwanted bills.

Folks have a tendency to too often complain of mail service. On the other hand, they probably haven't looked close enough to home for solutions.

Often mail boxes are shabby, unacceptable and illogically placed. One man cannot be expected to remember names and locations of several hundred patrons on a route or to leave his car in an attempt to deliver mail to out-of-the-way places.

Look at your mail box. Is it a credit to you? Is your name clearly printed on it so all can spot it? Is it accessible to the delivery man? Is it fresh painted and firmly in place?

If you answer yes, then you have done your part in helping keep efficient our complex system of rural route delivery.

Mystery of the Chromosomes

A major discovery about one of the most heart-breaking of events for parents, that of having a Mongoloid child, was made about five years ago and there are now more and more research efforts being devoted to chromosomal malformations. It is estimated now that one child in a hundred has some sort of chromosomal malformation, quite a high percentage. Scientists are a long way from determining why one child in some 660 is a Mongoloid, but they at least know that the chromosomal makeup is different.

The discoveries came through a remarkable amount of research by doctors in several countries and through some accidents. Until about a decade ago it was believed that human beings had 48 chromosomes although no one had been able to count them as they appeared as a massed ball in cell sections under the microscope. But a Chinese doctor working in an American laboratory one day saw them in a sphere. His technician had accidentally dipped the section in water before "fixing" it.

A few years later, in another laboratory of a Siamese and a Swede, another technician let the section dry before dipping it in alcohol. The drying meant that the cell flattened out and the chromosomes were distributed on the same plane. Eventually this led to enough clarity for their counting and it was discovered that there were only 46.

Meanwhile a French doctor had studied the palmar lines of Mongoloid children enough to determine that there were four distinguishing signs that had to be determined early in fetal development. He decided there must be a chromosomal lack. But it was some time before he and several other scientists perfected a dye and a method of photography so that the chromosomes from Mongoloid tissue could be studied.

After photographs had been taken, the French doctor took them to McGill University for a talk upon the method some three months later. It was not until then that he discovered that the Mongoloid tissue all had one more, rather than one less, chromosome and always the same one. And it was three months before he could take more photographs for confirmation.

From the studies has come the assurance that there is nothing in the parental genetic or behavior background that could cause the extra chromosome. At present it seems to be an accident although it can conceivably come from another apparent chromosomal accident in an earlier generation called translocation in which one chromosome inexplicably is attached to another.

Science and medicine has done remarkable work in the treatment of abnormalities caused by events after birth. The continued exploration into the makeup of chromosomes and then genes may eventually make even the tragic accidents of chromosomal malformation unlikely in the years to come.

Looking Backward

'Copperhead Logic,' Says Motor

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for May 19, 1964.

It is pitiable yet amusing to see how the Copperheads take the successes of Grant and Sherman and the noble, self-sacrificing officers and men fighting under them for the perpetuity of the Union and the cause of liberty.

Before the struggle commenced, while Grant and Lee were massing their armies, and Grant was weeding out McClellanism in his reorganization of the Army of the Potomac, needing the confidence and encouragement of their friends, the Copperhead sheets at the North were disparaging our Generals, their efficiency and the efficiency of our troops.

The New York World started the silly theory, and it was caught up and repeated by all the Minceen sheets in the country that if we were beaten in the Virginia campaign, and the rebels able to hold Richmond as their capital, all further attempts to put down the rebels would be futile, and that compromise or recognition of the Confederacy must follow.

They cling to this silly logic while the rebels themselves confess that if they are driven from "Old Dominion" the South's capacity for resistance will be broken and their hopes for independence ended and a "door opened that will admit Yankee soldiers to every mercenary planter's door."

25 YEARS AGO

Monday, May 15, 1939.

Leading scholars of the Clintonville High School senior class were Mary Ellen Weatherwax, named valedictorian, and salutatorian John Martin.

Maj. O. M. Kuehnstedt, Appleton, was elected president of the Wisconsin Department of the Reserve Officers Association at the organization's convention in Kenosha.

Members of the editorial staff which prepared and published all school news at Hillbert High School included Edgar Burkhardt, Evelyn Fischer, James Ziskind, Jean Kupah, Harriet Anderson, Elaine Popp, Junior Dingeldine, Antonio Seranich, Gerald Jost, Elmore Horn and Lester Grones.

Mrs. Walter Thornton was elected president of the Ladies Society of Trinity Lutheran Church, Menasha. Other officers were Mrs. Ben Weidman, vice president, Mrs. George Berger, secretary, and Mrs. Ernest Schmiedke, treasurer.

Three Appleton coaches were among the 12 most beautiful

10 YEARS AGO

Monday, May 17, 1954.

Marlene Schimke was named editor-in-chief of the 1955 annual "Classmate" at Washington High School, New London. Gloria Wing and Karen Krull were to share honors as assistant editors. David Wege was the editor for the current year.

Elected to represent the Darby Ever Alert 4-H Club at the 4-H camp at Pigeon Lake in Manitowish County were members Caryl Wittmann and Eyla Mae Van Treec.

John VanderZanden of Shiocton High School broke the discus record at the Little Nine Conference track and field meet. He threw the discus 137 feet, 3 inches to break the previous record by almost 9 feet. Ken Smith, Wisconsin High School, was the only triple winner for the day, winning the high hurdle event and setting new marks for both the low hurdle and pole vault. Wisconsin retained its championship crown with Sebastian coming in second in the meet.

People's Forum

Better Library Facilities for High School Students Necessity

Editor, Post-Crescent:

As graduation at Lawrence approaches and I prepare to leave your community for a new job and a new home, I think it appropriate to share with you some of my personal observations upon the Appleton High School. I want in no way to jeopardize the excellent cooperation exhibited in the teaching intern program instituted between Lawrence and the area schools two years ago, so you must understand at the very beginning that these opinions and comments are my own and do not necessarily reflect those of these institutions.

I had the good fortune to practice teach four classes of college preparatory English for at least eight weeks during January, February, and March at Appleton High School. It proved to be one of the most educational and inspiring experiences of my four years at Lawrence and in Appleton, the last two years of which I have spent as a husband and father. It is out of this new responsibility as a parent that I feel I must express my concern for one particular facet of the program of your high school.

Toward the latter part of February the Lawrence College Library was closed to high school students. Most of my superior students were quite upset at the closing of this research facility and in a rash moment made some derogatory remarks about the new policy. After some time, several of the students commented that perhaps the fault did not lie entirely with Lawrence at all, but involved other significant factors. In any case, it is not my intention here to defend Lawrence's action in this matter, but to point out some of the contributing factors of this problem.

Appleton prides herself on the emphasis she places on education of all children of all capacities, and particularly upon the excellent college-preparatory program she provides for college-bound students. A visit by members of a survey team from the National Council of Teachers of English served to point up to me the importance of the lack of good reference library facilities for advanced students in not only the high school library, but also the local public library. A questionnaire circulated by the N.C.T.E. asked about the number of books the students checked out of the school and public libraries, respectively. My advanced students, in order to answer that question truthfully, would have to state a phenomenally low number if we are to consider their excellent reading background and the level of their work. The crux of the barring of high school students from the Lawrence Library became more obvious than before, since the superior students were using the Lawrence Library not as a secondary source, but as the primary source for reference work, particularly in their senior year in English, foreign language, and science classes.

Unfortunately the high school students do tend to go to the library in small groups and tend to converse more than the college students, but the really vital point of this whole sequence of problems is that Lawrence did not have the facilities to handle this increased load, nor the responsibilities of accepting or encouraging it.

The whole matter then resolves to the sad, yet simple fact that the people of Appleton have not met the educational needs of the program they have begun. What with the letting of contracts for the new senior high school and the financial problems involved in such an undertaking, I thought perhaps the small matter of including adequate library facilities might be overlooked, or at least relegated to a secondary consideration. It is just such a mistake that I fear, as a parent and as a teacher, if Appleton is to continue her attempt to produce well-prepared students for a college career or to produce citizens capable of making worthwhile use of their growing leisure time, she must devote time, effort, and money to the improvement of both school and public library facilities, and foster a firm plan to enable superior students to have access to the Lawrence College Library.

Becoming Too Valuable

End May be Near for American Silver Dollar

WASHINGTON — Silver dollars may soon be as scarce as a good nickel cigar.

A recent run by collectors cleaned out the Treasury Department's supply of "cart wheels" except for a reserve of some three million.

Silver dollars haven't been coined since 1935, the National Geographic Society says. And a recent Treasury request to mint more was turned down by Congress because existing mint facilities are hard pressed to meet the demand for smaller coins.

Hoarded and Collected
Though Treasury reserves of silver dollars are at an all-time low, 485 million of them still clank around in circulation. Many are in the tight grip of coin collectors, and others are kept as good-luck charms, used on money clips, or salted away for cash emergencies.

Silver was once used only as a monetary standard and as decorative metal, but lately increasing uses have been found for it in industry. The shiny metal is a major ingredient in making photographic film. Silver's conductivity and resistance to corrosion makes it valuable in the electronics field. With the metal in short supply, a few manufacturers even resort to melting down coins — if they can get them — to get silver for the items they manufacture.

West Lakes Silver
Day-to-day use of silver dollars has not been common in the East or Middle West. A Brooklyn gas-station attendant called the police when a Wyoming visitor tried to pay him with silver dollars.

Out West where silver is mined, however, the cartwheel is more popular than paper. "Throwing down a dollar bill on the counter is like dropping dirty paper on the street," says the enthusiastic president of the Montana Chamber of Commerce.

Though popular, silver dollars are rough on trouser pockets. In Montana, men's pants are made with reinforced pockets. Ladies' handbags get extra stitches.

White Sulphur Springs, Montana, the bandit lugged away 20,000 silver dollars. He made his getaway in a truck.

Spoons Make Dollars

The best known of all silver dollars sailed across the Rappahannock River — if we believe the legendary feats of young George Washington. In fact, the United States Government didn't start minting silver dollars until 1794, just a few years before Washington's death. The first Yankee dollar had the head of a long-haired Liberty on one side, an eagle within a wreath on the reverse. Over the span of 141 years, the mints turned out nine different designs.

In early days, silver coins of all denominations were made from household silver and foreign coins. There were no silver mines. Owners took their silver articles to a mint, and had them melted down and coined to take home. George Washington supposedly was the first customer at the original mint in Philadelphia. He converted his silver spoons into half-dimes, now replaced by the nickel.

State's Debt Service Cost Could Double in Matter of Few Years

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—One of the neglected aspects of the state government is suggested in the recent report from the executive of the State Building Commission that capital requests from state institutions for new construction for the next six years are likely to reach $600 million in the aggregate.

The reminder here is that for the first time in the operation of the state government, debt service cost will become an important factor in budget-making and in future tax liability of Wisconsin residents.

For most of this money, or that part of it which is granted by the commission acting as agent for the State Legislature, will be borrowed.

It will represent interest and principal payments each year for the next 30 years, which is the life of the typical dummy corporation bond marketed by the state. The reminder is important because most of the discussions about prospective state budget problems have related to the inevitable increases in day to day operations costs of the burgeoning services. They have tended to overlook the problem of debt service, which will be an appreciable addition to the budget-making responsibilities of future governors and legislatures for the indefinite future.

HOW MUCH?

When the state borrows money, the amount of the ultimate obligation in interest and principal is roughly twice the value of the bond proceeds. Today the total of authorized debt — which is likely to be reached during this biennium — is ranging up toward $200 million.

Not all of the $200 million in additional money for plant expansion now being requested by the schools and colleges and welfare institutions and the rest will be granted. Some of the new debt, moreover, won't be a true obligation on the state general fund — technicalities aside. Dormitories and similar buildings are self-liquidating in the sense that student fee payments cover the cost of the loans, except of them extended by a federal government agency.

But many of them will be direct obligations on the state treasury. It is not difficult to perceive that during the next few years the total of such obligations will reach $600 million and that merely making the annual payments and covering the interest charges will be a sizable addition to the deficits of the rest of the decade that legislators and governors will be required to bridge.

All of which underlines the idea that the steady increases in state tax liability imposed during the last decade are likely to be continued for the next, whatever reservations some citizens and politicians may have about the capacity of the taxpayer, or his patience, or both.

NECESSARY?

Will this rapidly increasing total of debt liability for future generations be truly necessary?

Given a continuation of the traditional rules of eligibility for admission to state institutions and to state colleges and universities, most persons contemplating the question objectively will agree that it is. Changes of admissions policy are possible. But they are not likely. The ideal of universal education opportunity will be difficult to deny, given this state's traditions.

Yet it is probably a fact that through the circumstances of "dummy" corporations, obligating the state in circumvention of the constitutional rule against long-term state debt, the state will incur a considerably higher bonded debt than would be authorized if straight-out bond issues were to be presented to the people in the referendum commonly held in cities and counties, for example.

The constitutional fathers obviously could not anticipate the fiscal requirements of today, and did not when they legislated against state debt. Their political heirs a century later are improvising, uneasily and clumsily, because there is nothing else they can do.

Strictly Personal

Goldwater Candidacy Might Clear the Air

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A friend of mine, who teaches political science at a nearby university, said the other evening: "I think it would be a most heathen thing for the country if Barry Goldwater won the Republican nomination."

I was surprised to hear him say this, knowing that his personal views are strongly anti-Goldwater. "Why do you think that?" I asked. "Because," he said, "it would mean away a lot of the poisonous resentment that has been fermenting among the extreme conservatives for more than twenty years. It would give them a chance to test their thesis."

"Test it in what way?" I wanted to know.

"They have been saying, ever since Willie won the Republican nomination in 1944, that the people have never had a choice between a Democrat and a 'real Republican.' Willie and Dewey and Eisenhower and Nixon to them were not true conservatives, and did not represent the grass-roots Republican sentiment."

"It seems to me," he continued, "that this considerable segment of opinion deserves to have its belief tested by reality. I happen to feel confident that if Goldwater were nominated he would lose the election more overwhelmingly than Landon was defeated in 1936. And I think that so decisive a vote would clear the political air considerably."

"Maybe," I demurred. "Isn't it possible he might just win?" "Absolutely impossible," said my friend. "But I'll go even further. If the times weren't so turbulent today, if the foreign situation weren't so ticklish, I'd not only like to see Goldwater get the nomination — I'd like to see him get elected as well."

"On the same line of reasoning?" I suggested.

"Yes," he said. "Because if he became President, he would soon find that his behavior would be very much like Truman's and Eisenhower's and Kennedy's and Johnson's. The realities of political and economic life today would force him to trim down his views, to junk his oversimplified slogans, and to deal with complexities as they must be dealt with."

"Nobody who becomes President," he went on, "is going to restore America to the year 1900, because the world has changed too much since then. The eight years of Eisenhower's administration didn't see one basic revision or repeal of any major New Deal measures — because it can't be done and won't be done. There may be a difference in tempo and emphasis, but not in the general direction of political life."

"That seems a rather fatalistic attitude," I put in. "Not fatalistic," he corrected. "But deterministic. Goldwater's attitude is as obsolete as Stalin's was, on the other side. A rigid ideology has no force against the currents of history."

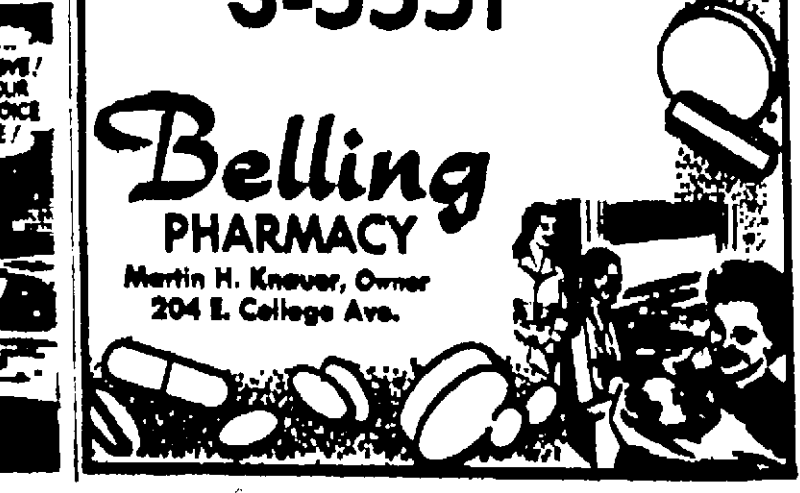

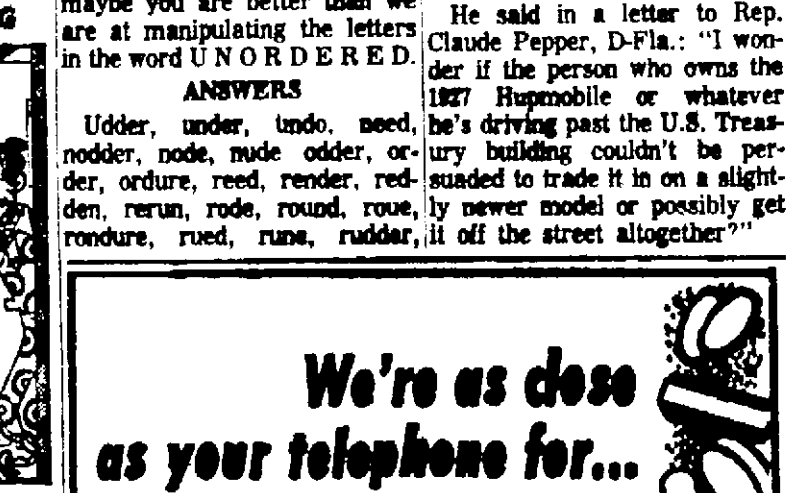

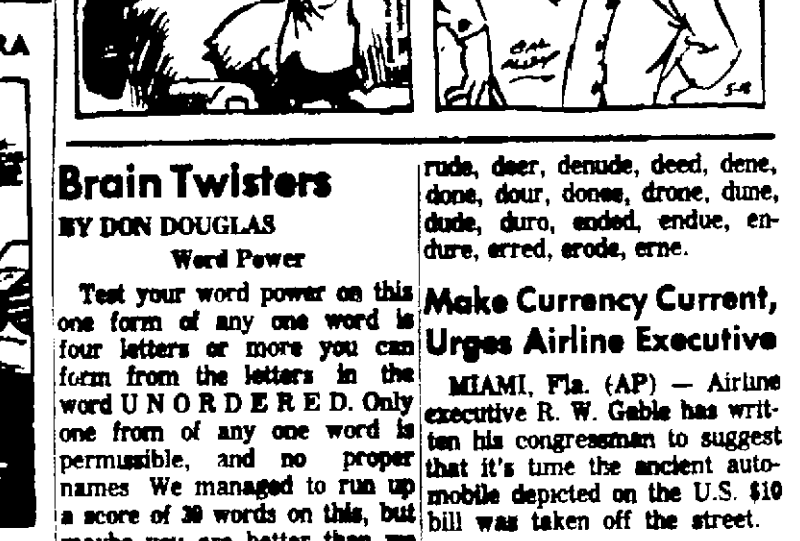

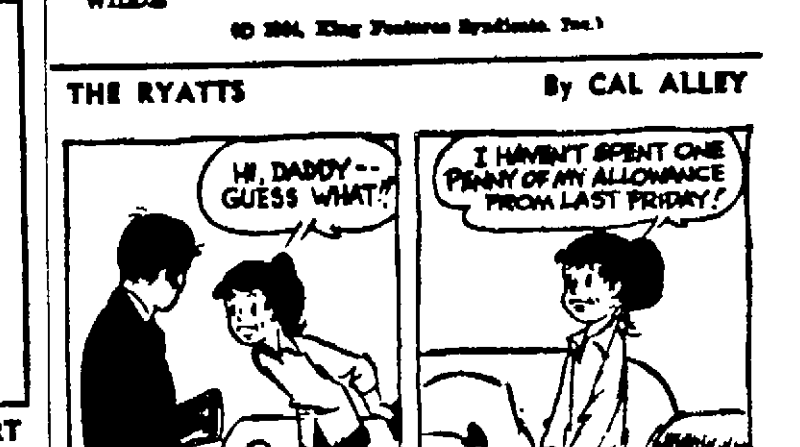

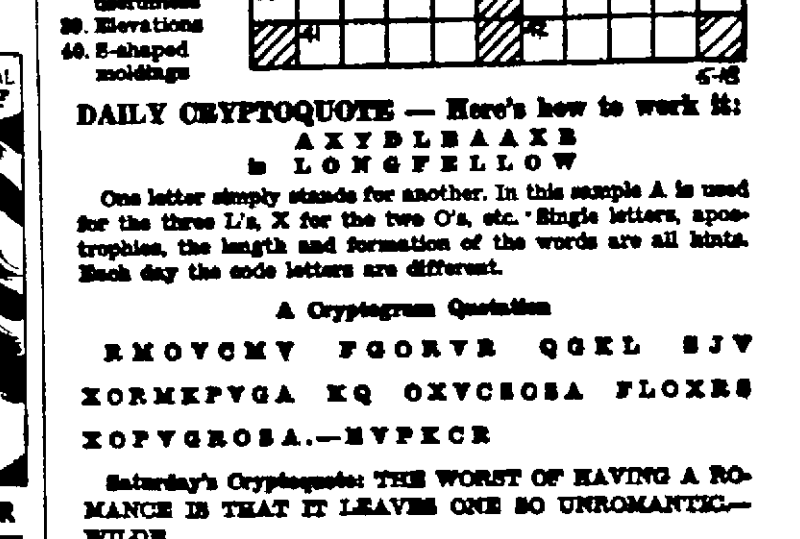

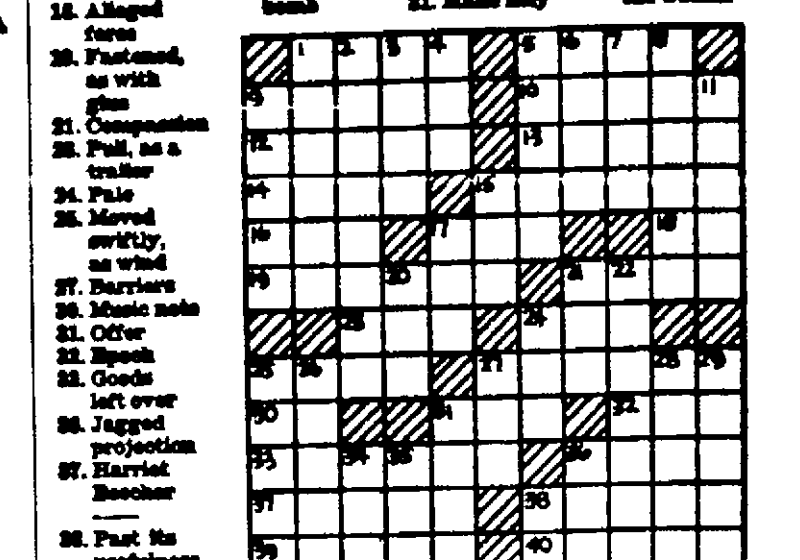

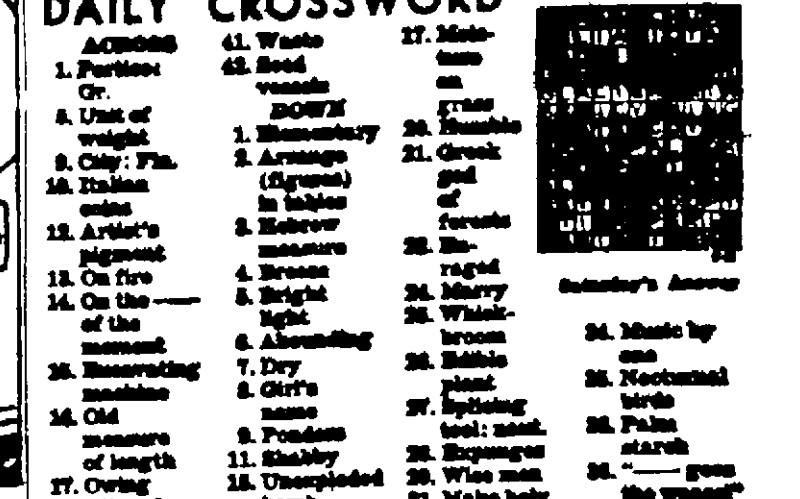

Potomac Fever— by Jack Wilson

Harry S. Truman had a happy 80th birthday. It's his lucky number. The 80th Congress made him famous—and vice versa.

Washington had its first genuine election this week. It was exciting — and wait until next week, when we count the ballots!

New York's Mayor Wagner says he's available for Vice-President. That makes it almost unanimous — the only Democrat who's not after the job is Lyndon B. Johnson.
